By the Associated Press

Japan's dream of conquest in he Pacific moved toward grim reality today with the reported mobization of 1,000,000 men, while at ea her ships blanked out in silnce and turned away from American shores.

Repercussions to Japan's coup roke swiftly around the globe.

In Hyde Park, N. Y., President oosevelt said the United States ould retaliate with specific action omorrow against Japan's occupaon of Indo-China naval and air ases.

Mr. Roosevelt would not say exctly what specific measures ould be taken, but members of ie presidential party said the ost likely move appeared to be ie "freezing" of Japanese creds and assets in the United States.

Dispatches from Saigon, French ndo-China, said concessions gaind by Japan include the right to tation warships in strategic Camnh Bay, on the southeast Indohina coast, only 800 miles from ingapore.

British dispatches from Singaore said France's colony in the rient ignored a recent offer of rotection by Great Britain, the nited States, China and the utch East Indies "against furth- encroachments from the outde."

In Rome, the authoritative Fast Editor Virginio Gayda declari the Indo-China thrust was "the rst episode" in Japan's "march to ie south" and was undertaken in ull agreement with the other xis powers.

Foreign intelligence reports eaching Shanghai said the Japanse mobilization — the greatest nce July, 1937, when the war ith China began—had been in rogress since July 17 and was till continuing.

Troop destinations were kept ecret, but advance contingents ere expected to occupy newly-won r and naval bases in southern rench Indo-China on Sunday, and s one Hanoi newspaper put it:

"Indo-China is on the way to ingapore and the Netherlands ast Indies."

In Berlin, authorized sources declared Japan has informed Germany she is determined to oppose y every means any British atempt on French Indo-China or ny threat to Japan's "new order" the Far East.

FATHER DIAMOND DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Called to His Reward

Father Joseph H. Diamond

OBSEQUIES TO BE HELD MONDAY AT ST. JOSEPH'S

Hosts of Friends of All Faiths From Every Walk Of Life Grieve Over the Passing of Beloved Priest In Charge of Local Church 17 Years

BODY TO LIE IN STATE

Hosts of friends of all faiths and from all walks of life were deeply grieved to learn of the death of the Rev. Father Joseph H. Diamond, pastor of St. Joseph's church here for the past 17 years, which occurred last evening at the Warren General Hospital after a long illness.

In ill health for the past two years, Father Diamond's condition had been considered serious since shortly after the first of the year.

Not only was he one of Warren's best known citizens, but one of the best known of northwestern Pennsylvania's Catholic clergymen and through his fraternal affiliations had a wide circle of friends throughout the state.

Since coming to Warren he has been actively interested in civic affairs, as well as the activities of his church. His participation in community projects brought him hundreds of friends outside of his own faith.

Friends may call at St. Joseph's rectory from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening except Sunday, when they may call from 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Translation of the body from the rectory to St. Joseph's church will take place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The body will lie in state at the church until the hour of the service.

Recitation of the Divine Office will take place on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Solemn requiem high mass will be sung on Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the Priests' Circle in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Joseph Henry Diamond, a son of John and Mary Diamond Diamond, was born in Philadelphia, November 12, 1884. His father, a native of Scotland, spent his younger life and was educated in Ireland. After coming to America, he spent four years as a salesman and returned to Ireland where he married Mary Diamond and returned to make his home in Philadelphia where he was a successful manufacturer of shoe blacking, ink, muselage, laundry blue, etc.

A devout member of the Roman Catholic church, he was president of St. Vincent DePaul Society of St. Agatha parish in Philadelphia for many years prior to his death, and for 30 years was a member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. He served as a private in the Civil War, and was a member of the G. A. R. and the K. of C.

Father Diamond attended the parochial schools of St. Agatha's parish and graduated from Catholic High School. He entered St. Bonaventure's College at Allegany, N. Y., where he graduated and was ordained on June 10, 1911, by the Most Rev. Charles H. Colton, Bishop of Buffalo.

His first appointment was as assistant to Monsignor Sheridan at St. Joseph's parish at Oil City where he served from June, 1911 to January 1913.

He then became assistant to

COMPROMISE ON YEAR EXTENSION IS ACCEPTABLE

Administration Leaders Make Known Willingness To Agree to Restriction If Convinced Move Will Increase Support for Legislation

BILL GOING TO HOUSE

BULLETIN

Washington, July 25—(AP)—Members of the senate military committee were reported today to have agreed informally on the general terms of a resolution by which congress would declare a limited emergency under which Selectees, National Guardsmen and Reserves could be retained in active army service beyond the present one-year limit. Senator Lee (D-Okla) told reporters when he came out of a closed session that a "count of noses" within the committee had disclosed no opposition to a proposal under which congress would be asked to find that the national interests were imperiled.

Washington, July 25—(AP)—Administration leaders made known today a willingness to compromise on a one-year extension of military service for Selectees, National Guardsmen and Reserves, if they were convinced such a move would increase congressional support for legislation to keep the present army intact.

Senator Hill of Alabama, the Democratic whip, told reporters he would offer no objection to a "reasonable" restriction on the additional time citizen soldiers might be called upon to serve over the present one-year limit.

Hill's statement lent impetus to a move by two other military committee members, Senators Austin (R-Vt) and Gurney (R-SD) to write a time clause into pending resolutions.

Austin, acting senate minority leader, said he favored a one-year extension, but Gurney suggested that it might be well to permit operation of the proposed legislation to continue until June 30, 1943.

On the other hand Senator Thomas (D-Utah) said he thought the army ought to be authorized to

WAR BRIEFS

Berlin, July 25—(AP)—DNB, official German news agency, said today a German long-range naval battery shelled a British convoy sailing through the English channel under cover of darkness last night.

London, July 25—(AP)—Authoritative quarters reported today a slight renewal in the German offensive all along the Russian front. It was emphasized there was "no decisive result gained by either side at any given place" on the vast battlefield.

Shanghai, July 25—(AP)—A Japanese military spokesman said today soldiers had been ordered to remove from the British ship Hilda Moller large quantities of cotton and textile machinery because it belonged to the Chinese government at Chungking.

Sydney, Australia, July 25—(AP)—Australian navy minister William M. Hughes appealed today for volunteers owning suitable boats to join the naval auxiliary patrol so that the entire coastline might be watched for offshore rescue work, troop ship escorting and harbor patrolling.

Berlin, July 25—(AP)—Jews of all nations are excluded from indemnity for losses due to an act of war such as bombing of a home, a decree in the official Reich's law gazette said today. The decree also provided that should an Aryan suffer loss or damage while on a Jew's property the Jew will be obliged to make good.

London, July 25—(AP)—The House of Commons today passed the financial powers bill authorizing the government to contract the $425,000,000 RFC loan already announced in Washington.

Ickes Says Illinois Oil Measure is Joke

Washington, July 25.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes, the defense petroleum coordinator, calls the recently enacted Illinois petroleum conservation measure a "joke."

"It does not have a single conservation feature," the secretary declared at his press conference, "except misuse of the word (conservation) in the title.

"The title is wrong. It should be a bill to encourage waste of the mineral resources of Illinois."

The secretary said he did not know now whether under his powers as petroleum coordinator he could take direct measures for oil conservation in Illinois.

SEN. WHEELER CHARGES EFFORT TO "SMEAR" HIM

America First Committee Financed Printing of Cards and Mailing List Was Furnished by Member of Willkie's Staff, He Explains

NONE SENT TO CAMPS

Washington, July 25—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) contended today that President Roosevelt and Secretary Stimson were seeking to conduct "a smear campaign" against him and Charles A. Lindbergh because of their opposition to administration foreign policies.

Stimson told his press conference that Wheeler had mailed post cards to army officers and men urging them to oppose entry into the European war. The war secretary added that "this comes very near the line of subversive activities against the United States, if not treason."

Wheeler said subsequently that he had sent out about 1,000,000 postcards quoting speeches of Mr. Roosevelt and others regarding the European war. The senator added that none of the cards were sent to army camps. But since they were mailed to "cross section" of the population," he added, some may have been forwarded to army men from their former addresses.

Wheeler said the America First committee financed printing the cards and that the mailing list was obtained from Emil Hurja, a member of Wendell Willkie's staff in the 1940 presidential campaign.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) declared that Stimson had been "wholly unfair" to Wheeler in the statement he made.

"While we may not all agree with Senator Wheeler's views on foreign policy, none should doubt his sincerity, his integrity or his patriotism," Van Nuys said.

"The president and Secretary Stimson are seeking to smear Lindbergh and myself," Wheeler asserted, adding that this "smear campaign is very flattering to us, because they would not attack us unless they regarded us as effective opposition."

PLAN RIDERS TO FARM MEASURE

Washington, July 25.—(AP)—An attempt to curb by congressional action any price-fixing orders on farm products was planned today by Senators Smith (D-SC) and Thomas (D-Okla.)

Protesting that actions by Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, were "robbing farmers of a chance for a fair price," Chairman Smith said he would ask the senate agriculture committee to act on the matter at once.

"Henderson breaks the cotton market every time he opens his mouth," Smith, known as "Cotton Ed," said.

Senator Thomas, also critical of Henderson's price-fixing attempts, said he would offer two riders to a farm bill dealing with wheat

Record-Breaking Session of Pennsylvania Legislature, Which Lasted 191 Days, Estimated to Have Cost Approximately $1,600,000, With $774,000 Being Paid Out for Salaries for Senators and Representatives

JAMES CLEARS DESK OF IMPORTANT MEASURES

Harrisburg, July 25.—(AP)—The record-breaking 1941 session of the Pennsylvania legislature, which adjourned one week ago, cost approximately $1,600,000, officials estimated today.

The session lasted 191 days, longest since 1842.

Salaries for the 50 senators and 208 representatives totalled $774,000. They receive $3,000 for a regular session, an additional $500 for a special session and one may be called by Governor James to handle the congressional reapportionment problem.

The members, officers and employes of the legislature received $128,000 for mileage expenses, $89,000 for the house and $39,000 for the senate.

Salaries of employes, printing and incidentals make up the remainder of the expense.

The expense was greater than any previous regular session in modern times, legislative officials said.

Governor James meanwhile cleared his desk of several important measures, vetoing one bill

JAP MERCHANT FLEET MARKING TIME OFFSHORE

San Francisco, July 25.—(AP)—Japan, taking no chances on having her finest liners and cargo vessels seized by the United States, imposed strict orders of radio silence today on her vast merchant fleet, halted suddenly on the high seas.

Japan was clearly apprehensive as a result of President Roosevelt's denunciation of Indo-China occupation.

Forty-two Japanese ships were reported marking time at sea, some just a safe distance offshore, or turning back to Japan. Japanese ships in Pacific coast ports rushed loading operations. Sailings of two Nipponese cargo boats from Yokohama to the United States were cancelled.

The whereabouts of the fast 17,606-ton liner Tatuta Maru, due here at 5 a. m. yesterday, was a mystery. Last evening the big ship was seen cruising leisurely 12 miles off shore later she had vanished. Like all other Japanese ships, she answered no radio calls.

The Tatuta Maru was laden with 5,588 bales of raw silk valued

FOREMAN IS BLAMED FOR FATAL MINE BLAST

Indiana, Pa., July 25—(AP)—The coroner's jury inquiring into the deaths of seven men in the June 30 explosion at the McIntyre mine found a foreman had been "negligent of his duty" and recommended he be held "for further investigation."

The verdict, returned late yesterday, stated the blast was caused by an accumulation of gas and names Charles Ramsell as having been negligent.

George Steinhauser, chairman of an inspection commission of the State Bureau of Mines, said the commission found that Ramsell and an assistant, Elmer McGee, removed canger signs which had been set up in the blast area by Fire Boss Wilber Kinter. McGee died in the explosion

FOOD POISONING CASE IS PROBED

Frenchville, July 25.—(AP)—Dr. E. S. Erhard, acting Clearfield county coroner, said today several cans of condensed milk have been sent to laboratory experts at Pennsylvania State College to determine if the milk was the cause of food poisoning which killed a four-year-old boy and made five other children ill.

Dr. Erhard said the grandparents of the dead child, James Chandler of Emporium, had bought a case of milk several days ago and various members of the family later became ill.

The boy died Wednesday at the home of his grandfather, William English of Frenchville R. D. The other children, reported to be recovering at a Philipsburg hospital.

Jimmie is 6½ years old. He is the son of Emanual Joanos, restaurant operator.

LABOR DISPUTES KEEP SCORES OF WORKMEN IDLE

By the Associated Press

Labor disputes continued today in points as widely separated as southern California and the Florida keys.

Scores of women's garment factories in Los Angeles were picketed by striking workers, and AFL construction laborers remained away from their jobs on army and navy building projects at Key West, Fla.

The Los Angeles strikes, called by the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers' union in support of demands for wage increases, affected about 3,000 workers, the majority of whom were sewing machine operators.

One hundred of the 1,000 striking Key West workers went back to their jobs this morning when the Paul Smith Construction Company, contractor for part of the work, met the 62½ cents demand. Albury rejected a compromise offer of a 10 cents an hour increase for the rest of the workers.

Charles Albury, was installed as president of the Key West union local after the members removed his predecessor for opposing the strike. Albury announced yesterday that the navy had authorized employment of civil service workers in place of the strikers, if the

RIVERMEN RECOVER BODY IN ALLEGHENY

Pittsburgh, July 25—(AP)—Rivermen recovered the body of Dora Whiteside, 30, Bellevue waitress, from the Allegheny river yesterday in almost the exact spot where she drowned when a canoe in which she was riding with a companion capsized.

Edward Twigger, superintendent aboard a Dravo Contracting Company dredge discovered the body opposite Blawnox. The accident occurred Wednesday.

U. S. OFFICIALS OUSTED BY REICH TO SAIL TONIGHT

Lisbon, July 25—(AP)—Several hundred Americans, including consular officials, employes and their families ordered out of Germany, Italy and Axis-occupied countries, are scheduled to sail for home tonight aboard the U. S. naval transport West Point.

The passenger list was completed last evening when a special train bearing 66 tired, sooty men, women and children crossed into Portugal at Vilar Formosa—the last of 248 Americans to arrive from Germany and German-occupied territory.

Word that their train had crossed the border was the signal for 200 German consular officials and their families—ordered out of the United States—to disembark from the West Point.

Among the Americans who arrived yesterday from the Reich were 16 volunteer ambulance drivers, who were bound for the Middle East aboard the Egyptian ship Zamzam when she was torpedoed and sunk April 17 in the south Atlantic.

At first, one of the drivers said, the Germans let them go shopping under guard, but he added:

"They got less kind to us after three of our men—Ray Colcord, Donald King and William Davidson escaped, and our guard received instructions to shoot if any of us tried the same thing."

The three drivers entered Switzerland and subsequently joined the diplomatic group en route from Italy to Lisbon.

Two other ambulance drivers—

ARMY PILOTS KILLED IN CRASH OF BOMBER

Mt. Gilead, O., July 25.—(AP)—Two U. S. army pilots ferrying a Lockheed-Hudson bomber to Canada for delivery to the British royal Air Force perished in flames late yesterday as their twin-motored ship plowed into a central Ohio cornfield.

Major Robert H. Baker, contact officer for the army's "ferry command" at Patterson Field in Dayton, identified the victims as First Lt. R. F. Rush of Tucson, Ariz., and Second Lt. N. L. Warner.

He said the plane, bearing R. A. F. insignia, left Patterson Field for Montreal, Canada, less than an hour before it plunged to earth in bright sunlight.

Eye-witnesses reported that the ship spiraled to earth, its motors roaring, and burst into flames after a series of explosions. Both bodies were burned beyond recognition.

OFFENSIVE RESUMED BY NAZIS

Morning War Bulletin Issued at Moscow Declares . . Bitter Battles Continuing Not Only at Smolensk But Also in the Zhitomir Sector West of Kiev, The Petrozavodsk Area And on the Finnish Front In the North

BERLIN ACKNOWLEDGES RESISTANCE IS STIFF

BULLETIN

London, July 25.—(AP)—The Moscow radio went off the air shortly after 7 o'clock tonight (noon, EST). This sometimes signals the beginning of an air raid.

Moscow, July 25.—(AP)—Soviet troops defending the road to Moscow were reported today to have wiped out an entire German infantry division near Smolensk, and the Russian capital's air defenses were credited officially with beating off a fourth successive night assault by the luftwaffe.

Bitter battles, the morning war bulletin declared, continued all last night not only at Smolensk but also in the Zhitomir sector west of Kiev, the Petrozavodsk sector on the Finnish front north of Lake Ladoga, and the Porkhov and Polotsk-Nevel area south of Leningrad.

In all sectors the Russians were said to be battling "stubbornly."

Annihilation of the Nazi division was claimed in a communique which indicated the Germans were throwing great masses of troops into action in an effort to smash Russian resistance in the Smolensk area, some 230 miles west of Moscow.

The communique said the division was "freshly arrived at the front" and was smashed by Red Army units "resisting the offensive of large enemy forces."

There was no hint in the bulletin that the German offensive had gained any ground, either in the Smolensk sector or elsewhere.

Heavy fighting was reported in the vicinity of Porkhov, 150 miles south of Leningrad, and Zhitomir, 75 miles west of Kiev on the Ukraine front—sectors which have been mentioned so consistently in Russian communiques as to give the impression that the Germans are stalled there.

"In other directions and sectors of the front," the bulletin added. "No great battles were reported."

The German air force struck twice at Moscow during the night, but an official announcement said only one raider penetrated the capital's defenses and that it was shot down. Another plane was reported destroyed outside Moscow.

Berlin, July 25—(AP)—The German High Command declared today that large numbers of prisoners and war material were falling daily into German hands and asserted the campaign against Russia is proceeding according to plan, but acknowledged that the Red army still is putting up stiff resistance.

COAST PATROL IS BEING ORGANIZED

San Francisco, July 25—(AP)—Taking a lesson from Dunkerque and the priceless aid rendered the British by a motley volunteer fleet of small boats, the navy is organizing an auxiliary of small craft along the Pacific coast for close in patrol work in case of war.

The little fishing and pleasure boats that ply coastal waters, and know every inlet and bar are being mobilized by the hundreds and arrangements have been made to fit them with suitable guns if a coast defense emergency arises.

It is all being done on a volunteer basis, Twelfth Naval District officers say. Skippers, along with their crews, are being inducted into the Naval Reserve at San Francisco, Monterey, Eureka and

SELECTEES ARE ENTERTAINED BY CITIZEN GROUP

A number of Warren county youths who will leave next Monday morning for New Cumberland, to be inducted into the army under the Selective Service act, were guests at a dinner sponsored by the Citizens Committee through the co-operation of the borough council and county commissioners.

The dinner was served by members of the American Legion Auxiliary at the home. Attorney R. Pierson Eaton acted as toastmaster, and the short address was delivered by Major T. W. McAllister, commanding officer of the DuBois sub-district of the Officers' Reserve.

Major McAllister spoke briefly about his experience in trying to join the armed forces of the country before he was of age. He also informed the boys on some of the fundamentals of army life and advised them regarding some of the more important details which will help to make their period of induction more pleasant and profitable. The speaker stressed the importance of obedience, promptness, alertness, health, religious observance and finally the benefits of writing home regularly.

Lieut. Victor VerMilyea, also of the Officers' Reserve, was an invited guest.

The boys will leave Monday morning on the eastbound train for the army induction center, at which time members of the committee will be on hand to give them cigarettes and candy.

OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR ALUMINUM THIS EVENING

Heeding the request of the committee in charge of Warren's aluminum collection campaign, housewives this morning started placing their discarded kitchen utensils and other aluminum articles on their porches and in other easily accessible places for collection this afternoon and evening by Boy Scouts and other volunteer workers.

Indications this morning pointed to a fine response to the call for the scrap metal, which is to be used in defense industry.

Tomorrow morning at ten o'clock a special movie show will be given at the Library Theatre for "youngsters" from 6 to 60. The only cost of admission is some discarded aluminum utensil.

A fine program has been arranged, the feature picture being "The Virginian," with Errol Flynn and Olivia DeHaviland.

In connection with today's collection, it was stated that those who might be missed this afternoon will be canvassed tomorrow.

Buns and Biscuits Buoy Breakfasts

TUCKED in a warmer (a sight to warm the appetite!) so that butter will melt in their "middles," these biscuits and buns, made with Rumford Baking Powder, bid for breakfast, lunch or dinner fame. They're easy-to-make hot-breads as the recipes below prove:

Basic Baking Powder Biscuits

2 cups flour
2 teaspoons Rumford Baking Powder
1 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons shortening
⅔ cup milk (about)

Sift flour, Rumford Baking Powder and salt together. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured surface and knead gently for 30 seconds. Roll out to ½ inch-¾ inch thickness. Cut into rounds of desired size and place on greased baking pan. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 12-15 minutes. Makes 18 biscuits (2 inches diameter).

Pecan Buns

Cream 6 tablespoons brown sugar and 3 tablespoons butter until well blended. Spread in bottom of well-greased muffin pans and place 3-4 pecan halves on top of this mixture. Make baking powder biscuits as in basic recipe using 4 tablespoons shortening. Roll out to ¼ inch thickness and brush with 2 tablespoons melted butter. Sprinkle with ½ cup brown sugar. Roll as for jelly roll and cut in 1 inch slices and place cut sides down in prepared muffin pans. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 20-25 minutes. Makes 18 small buns.

SHEFFIELD TO HAVE ALUMINUM DRIVE TONIGHT

Sheffield, July 25—Sheffield's contribution to the national drive to collect scrap aluminum will occur this evening when members of Boy Scout Troops 35 and 36, manning trucks donated for the purpose, will make a house to house canvass of the community and Barnes to gather all local donations of old pots, pans, percolators and other scrap aluminum. The collection of scrap will be kept under lock and key at the township until next week, when it will be transferred to Warren.

Citizens of the outlying districts of the township who have aluminum to contribute may leave it at the township building Saturday. The Boy Scouts will have members there all day to receive the donations.

Charles Slater, Scoutmaster, is in charge of the drive. The trucks which will be used in the undertaking were donated by the City Market, Home Telephone Company, C. W. Bramer, C. A. Dahl and Melvin Sauter.

In connection with the drive to collect aluminum, a special show will be held at the Utopian Theatre at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. H. H. Baldensperger, proprietor, has announced. The price of admission will be one piece of scrap aluminum. The offer is open to everyone, but should prove especially attractive to the boys and girls.

FATHER DIAMOND

Few men have had greater influence on Warren and its residents than Father Diamond, rector of St. Joseph's church, whose passing, although believed impending for many months, nevertheless seems to come as a severe shock to the entire community.

Father Diamond's influence did not begin or end with his work as pastor of St. Joseph's church. He was an inspiring preacher and leader, but his advice and assistance reached almost every activity in the community, whether it was religion, sport, welfare work, or civic projects. Enterprising, capable and forceful, he mixed idealism and realism in just the right proportions to make of himself an outstanding citizen. His service to Warren cannot be measured in dollars and cents, or by other physical standards, but that it is great and enduring none can deny. His passing is a distinct loss to the borough and county, as well as through the diocese and state.

It would be impossible here to pay tribute to the many fine qualities of virtue and helpfulness that Father Diamond exhibited through the years of his residence in Warren. Above all he loved his church and his parishioners, and nothing was ever left undone to promote the best interests of both. The thing that entitles him to rank among the greats and near greats is the fact that while his church came first, always, he found time to give of his own services and advice, toward the promotion of almost any project to help further the best interests of his beloved Warren.

He loved sports, including baseball, football and basketball, and the enjoyed just as much helping to make such entertainment possible for others. No person ever enjoyed the theatre more than Father Diamond. In good health he seldom missed a picture and he could always be found helping to put across promotions and contests to arouse interests in those things in which he himself found so much pleasure.

Father Diamond always was among the front ranks of the hardest workers for any project that had for its purpose the uplifting of humanity. In addition, however, his private benevolences always given quietly and generously, can never be estimated.

Father Diamond was the type of a man who never wearied of helping others, nor did he burden them with his own cares. Able and virile searcher after the right as he saw it, his life and actions were marked with consideration for the other man. Through a long and outstanding career he counted his friends in all religions and every walk of life, by those with whom he came in contact. When he preached, he preached well, just as when he loved, he loved well, and would do anything for a friend.

We are deeply sorry to see so lovable a man leave us. Certainly in a day of strain and struggle, there are all too few men willing to extend themselves for another, or fight for the right as they see it.

Friendliness and gentleness are attributes which never fade, for they make their possessor rich long after the mortal frame is gone. These attributes will keep the name of Father Diamond green among those who knew him for time to come.

If the Boy Scouts miss you today in their aluminum collection drive, they can be contacted to return tomorrow—or better still, take your donations to the bin at the north approach of the Hickory street bridge and toss it in yourself.

Motorists who have not already attended to that important task should remember that but one week remains in which to secure that new inspection tag.

According to reports several points in the county were heavily drenched yesterday while the borough received only a light shower.

Developments in Indo-China do not help the situation so far as mastering the spelling of some of the names in the war news is concerned.

Many in Warren have discovered that most vacationists go away for a little change and come back with a lot less.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Roseland dance hall is one of those modernly historic old places on Broadway without which no mention of the town would ever be complete. It is important because it has become a sort of legend, and yet it is real enough. People who haven't been there aren't sure exactly whether its a place to dance, or something they saw in a movie.

This is largely because Roseland has been used as background for so many movies, especially in the late twenties and early thirties, and because it has served as a hitching post for many fictionists. Ring Lardner and Sherwood Anderson both went to Roseland for color for their stories.

Well, Roseland is a dance hall on Broadway where Jean Arthur and George Raft used to win prizes for doing the Charleston. It pioneered in the jitney-dance idea. You buy yourself a ticket and you dance with a hostess. The house provides dozens of beautiful girls. You may, of course, bring your own girl. But the head hostess, Miss Florence Forder, will introduce you to any of the girls you like. . . . And if you want to make her your partner for the evening, the fee is $2.80 an hour.

ROSELAND goes back to a New Year's night in 1919, and to John McGraw, Will Rogers Flo Ziegfeld, all there for the premiere festivities. . . . There were roses stuck in every nook and cranny, as there are today, thus justifying the name.

The real father of the Roseland is a young man by the name of Lou Brecker, a Philadelphian, who liked dancing and who has built a career around Broadway. He has had all of the well known orchestras from time to time, and he has gone in for sensationalism on occasion—once he staged a hot jazz wedding, with his hostesses serving as bridesmaids and the orchestra, heavy on the brass, doing strange and rhythmic things to the wedding march. But the couple were legally wed, amid the fanfare, and they are still married. Lou says they drop around to say hello and have a dance every now and then.

ON ANOTHER occasion he staged a marathon dance, but James J. Walker, who then was mayor, stopped it. Later Walker came around to see Brecker and posed with some of the hostesses, just to show there were no hard feelings.

Today, Roseland proper is a dance hall-cafe. . . . That is, you can order almost any kind of non-alcoholic beverage; but liquors are not permitted. Too many youngsters come there. The only thing Brecker wants you to get "high" on—is the music.

There are interesting points to the music at Roseland. . . . Mal Hallett, Claude Hopkins, Shep Fields, Fletcher Henderson and Vincent Lopez all got their starts there. . . . The Lindy Hop, the Charleston and the Black Bottom were introduced there. . . . It has been quite a place, Roseland, on Broadway, if you like to dance.

BACK TO SEA

Bethlehem, Pa., July 25.—(AP)—A crushed leg and the memory of 13 days in an open boat won't keep Melvin V. Mundy, first officer of the torpedoed Robin Moor, from going back to sea.

"He'll go back to sea when he's well again," said his wife. Mundy, 44, has followed the sea for 22 years, 10 of them as master of vessels.

The outer skin of the body is almost germ-proof.

Letters to the Editor

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been reading about cities and black outs in the industrial and coastal areas. It has crossed my mind of the average towns and their chances during an air raid.

Warren is a typical town that wouldn't have the slightest idea of what to do if an air raid should come our way. You may say, "It never will affect us." I hope it never will be, but I'm not so sure. After all, the Germans are in Russia. Alaska is very close to Russia. Canada is close to Alaska, and we are very close to Canada.

For one, I would like to know what to do in case of an air raid. I may be falsely nervous, but the National Forge is near by, and Nazi aren't exactly discriminent with their bombing. Then, too, Struthers-Wells, the United Refining Co., and the Penn Furnace are in Warren.

A course in our high school on conduct during an air raid might be well attended. Though I felt the war would never come to Warren, I would feel compelled to attend that class because it would make me realize what others are going through. It would help me understand their position better and make me realize how important it is that we help England in order that we should not have to go through the same thing. The small towns of England know how to conduct themselver during an air raid. Why shouldn't we? Remember, that war could get here yet.

Part of an air raid is a well conducted blackout. Why can't Warren set the thousands of small industrial towns throughout the United States an example by an educational course in conduct during an air raid and by black out practice?

Certainly there must be enough interested leaders in Warren to form a committee to give Warren the opportunity of a course in the proper conduct for the average citizen during war times.

Why can't Warren invite Life Magazine's staff to a middle sized town that has been interested enough in current events to educate itself to the dangers in our own times? Why not invite them to our class room lessons? Why not invite Life to Warren's black out?

Community Minded.

Dear Sir:

Some of us witnessed the appreciation of soldiers in the First World War for the helpfulness of such organizations as are now joining in the U. S. O. for the service of men under arms today.

All citizens who stay at home, if they have the slightest sense of gratitude, will desire to contribute toward the happiness and morale of our soldiers. This feeling of gratitude and obligation is probably uppermost in our minds as the opportunity is presented to contribute to the U. S. O.

But let us not forget at the same time, that some day this emergency will be over and the soldiers will come home. What sort of citizens will they be? Will they return resentful for neglect by us, or with the realization that we did what we could for their comfort and did not let them down? I believe we all should consider how much our gifts today may have to do with their attitude toward our society and our country when their term of service is over.

Yours for the U. S. O. and the U. S. A.

Harold C. Warren.

America's Card Authority

Precision in the order of cashing top cards often pays dividends when a bad break develops. Today's hand was played by J. M. Mathews, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo. It illustrates the importance of taking aces and kings in just the right order.

The contract of six no trump is warranted by the cards, for if the clubs break there are plenty of tricks. The opening lead was won by the ace of hearts.

Dummy led a low spade and the jack won. Another spade to the queen brought out the ace. East returned the ten of spades, forcing the king, and South let go a diamond.

Two top clubs were cashed, and the bad break was revealed. But with East holding the only stoppers in the black suits, a squeeze was sure to follow. South cashed the top hearts, the queen of diamonds, then led to dummy's top diamonds, on the last of which East found it impossible to hold protection in both black suits.

This is a simple squeeze, such as occurs in one or two boards of every duplicate game. Yet Mathews was the only player in this duplicate game to bag it.

The other South players all began by trying to run the club suit, before knocking out the ace of spades, so that East, on getting in with ace of spades, was able to force out South's third club honor and kill the vital re-entry for the squeeze situation.

Attesting to the growing popularity of home movies, is the increase in production of motion picture projectors using film of substandard gauge, chiefly 16 mm. and 8 mm. reported by the Census Bureau. In 1939, projectors of this type manufactured in the United States numbered 134,515 valued at $6,302,734 compared with 1937 figures, 114,593 and $4,869,156.

Alaska has produced more than $750,000 worth of minerals since it was acquired by the United States.

Named as a committee were Mrs. Olga Peterson, Mrs. Edith Simonsen and Mrs. Katherine Allen. All attending will bring tureens and sandwiches, the meat to be provided by the auxiliary.

The next regular meeting of the women's group will be held August 14.

NEWLYWEDWS ARE HONORED AT SHOWER

Prizes for games went to Mrs. Josephine Schuman and Mrs. Spicer. The honored guest received many lovely gifts from the following: Mrs. John Ekey, Mrs. Robert Billman, Mrs. Bernice Rieder, Mrs. Stella Sailor, Mrs. Irene Anderson, Mrs. Doris Gnage, Mrs. Helen Gnage, Mrs. George Bertch, Mrs. Ethel Buchanan, Mrs. Josephine Schuman, Mrs. Mary King, Mrs. Sara Winchester, Mrs. Mary Owens, Mrs. Herbert Wentz, Mrs. Nettie Hollabaugh and the hostesses.

HOSPITAL ALUMNI ENJOY OUTING-PICNIC

About 30 members and guests of the Warren General Hospital Alumni Association enjoyed the picnic and outing held Thursday evening at the Rockwell "Box" in Pleasant township.

Among the visitors was Miss Lucille McLaughlin, a member home on vacation from Greensburg; also Miss Helen Donovan, orthopedic consultant and supervisor in the state department of health, assisting with local clinics and other department work during the vacation of Miss Agnes McLaughlin, state nurse in Warren county.

ERIE ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST HERE

Dr. and Mrs. Grant H. Smock, 626 West 9th street, Erie, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Frances Louise, to Norman L. Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Erickson, Fifth avenue extension, Warren. The wedding will take place in August.

Miss Smock is a graduate of Strong Vincent High School, attended Edinboro State Teachers' College and Villa Marie Academy. Mr. Erickson, graduate of the local high school, attended Edinboro and is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company here.

ENTERTAIN FOR SONS ON FURLOUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Motz and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson entertained about 50 relatives and friends last evening at the Motz home to honor their sons, Paul Motz, private first class, and Robert W. Johnson, corporal, home on furlough from Indiantown Gap.

RETURNS HOME

Dr. and Mrs. Herman C. Rogers and children, Susan and Billy, left this morning for their home in Scotch Plains, N. J., after a visit with Dr. Rogers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Rogers, 320 Crescent Park.

ZONTA DINNER

Fourteen members of the Zonta Club gathered at the home of Mrs. C. C. Johnson at Cherry Grove last evening for a delightful dinner and social time.

OUTING OF OLD GUARD ENJOYED AT THE WILLOWS

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller entertained at their home, The Willows at Rogers Mills, yesterday afternoon for the Old Guard, their ladies and a few invited guests, the occasion being the first picnic of the Warren Crapter since its organization nearly two years ago.

There were games for those who desired to play, while others, finding a shady spot on the spacious lawn, indulged in reminiscences or discussed matters of current interest. Meanwhile, the committee in charge was preparing tables and about five o'clock all sat down to the picnic dinner. Then followed brief remarks by various members and Reah Reynolds, an invited guest, proved a good entertainer.

An unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Miller for the fine hospitality shown the Old Guard, thus ending a most enjoyable afternoon.

The Old Guard is made up of men not actively connected with any business or profession. The local chapter is the second to be organized in the state, Oil City having been the first. The parent chapter is in Summit, N. J., and literature from that source states that "the meetings of the Old Guard aim to cultivate fellowship and good cheer, to preserve mental alertness, and to maintain lively interest in community, national and world affairs. These associations help men through the bewilderment common to those who make a pronounced change in their vocational life. But the organization practices no radical segregation of the aged. Rather the good cheer and insights thus developed members carry with them into all other social relationships.

"It is felt to be significant that wherever the Old Guard has been organized, its habitat is the Y. M. C. A. This is not only tribute to the generosity of the 'Y' management, but also to the insight both of the management and of the men themselves. The Old Guard is not a 'department' of the 'Y' and is not under 'control.' But neither does it aim to build up an independent institutional equipment, imposing additional financial burdens on the community. It rather utilizes equipment already provided, and generously made available for the periods of the day which at the same time suit the convenience of the men and employ the plant when it is least in demand by other age groups".

The local chapter meets in the Y. M. C. A. at 10:30 o'clock each Friday morning. No meetings are held during July and August. Visitors are welcome and those who qualify are invited to become members.

Officers for the present year are A. E. Johnson, president; E. W. Smiley, secretary-treasurer, and these, with N. G. Hoagvall, constitute the program committee.

Forty-two Japanese ships off the United States west coast were reported marking time or turning back toward Japan.

Both London and Hanoi reports saw that Vichy and Tokyo had agreed to let Japan use bases in Indo-China and reports from Saigon indicated that the French were withdrawing their forces from the area to be occupied.

Extraordinary counter-measures to the Japanese move were hinted in Washington.

Officially Japan admitted nothing about Indo-China.

Japanese newspapers became increasingly truculent toward the United States and Britain, charging them with seeking to throw a military cordon around Japan with the assistance of Russia, China and the Netherlands East Indies. Others suggested significantly that Thailand needed Japanese protection.

To the accepted fact that Japan shortly would be installed in Indo-Chinese bases within striking distance of Britain's Singapore, the Dutch East Indies, Malaya, Burma and the Philippine Islands the United States prepared its answer.

Informed sources in Washington said the U. S. government probably would bar all oil exports to Japan.

the Air Ministry indicated when four types of big planes raided Brest and La Pallice three times in attempts to knock out Germany's twin 26,000-ton battleships, the Scharnhorst and the Gneisenau.

Berlin, July 25.—(AP)—Another costly defeat for British air raiders over the English channel by German fighters said to be using destructive new tactics was claimed today by the German High command.

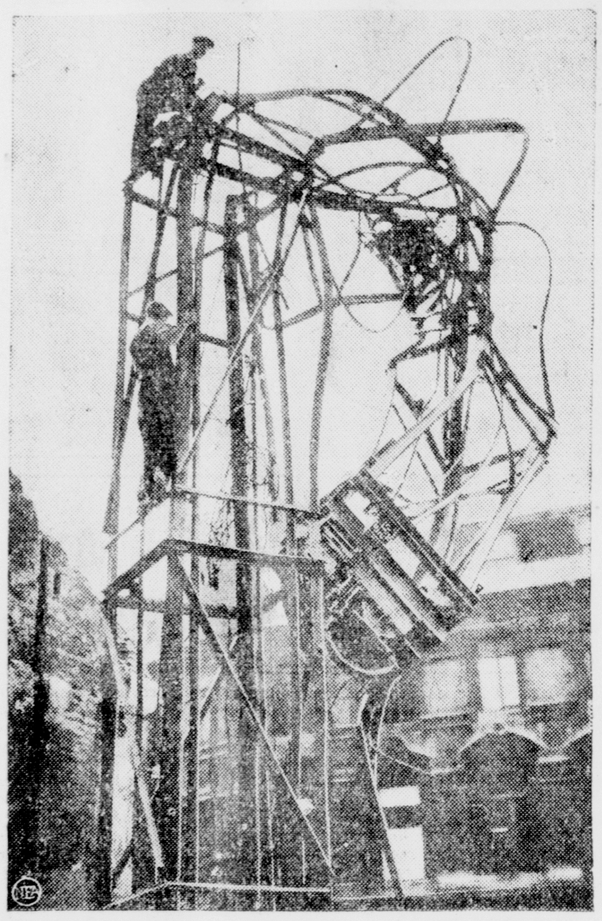

Thirty-three RAF planes were shot down on the channel coast air front yesterday, the communique from Adolf Hitler's headquarters asserted, including nine four-motored bombers.

Authorized commentators said Germany had developed a new air fighting method and had put it to effective use.

The High Command said the RAF had inflicted civilian casualties in a new overnight sweep along the northwest coast of Germany, but it declared there was no military damage.

A National Labor Relations Board complaint charging unfair labor practices was filed yesterday against Air Associates, Inc., Bendix, N. J., manufacturers of airplane accessories. A work stoppage has kept more than 200 of the 700 employes idle since July 11. The union charged that 24 of their members had been discriminatorily discharged and similar allegations were made in the NLRB complaint.

Obsequies to Be Held Monday at St. Joseph's

(From Page One)

Monsignor Bernard McGivney at St. Catherine's parish at DuBois for three months, coming to Warren as assistant to Rev. Joseph W. Sieverding from March 1913 to June, 1918.

At that time he became pastor of St. James parish at Driftwood, Pa., serving there until May 30, 1924 when he came to St. Joseph's as pastor. On June 11, he completed 30 years in the priesthood.

In September, 1925, Father Diamond was instrumental in forming the St. Joseph's Cemetery Association. One of his greatest interests was the care and beauty of this cemetery and before his illness he had made plans for the erection of a large statue and a grotto to Our Lady of Lourdes. Many other improvements also were planned. Many will always regard St. Joseph's cemetery as a memorial to Father Diamond.

Father Diamond was a member of Warren Lodge No. 223, B. P. O. Elks and was a past chaplain of the Elks Association of Pennsylvania. He was also a member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Pennsylvania, and of Warren Council, No. 964, Knights of Columbus.

He held many diocesan positions, including supervisor of the Warren district of the Department of Youth Activities and Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Of a natural friendly and genial nature, Father Diamond was held in the highest esteem by a host of friends in this city and section. He gave unstintingly of his time in behalf of the cause of charity and community endeavor, and his passing leaves a void which will be difficult to fill.

He took a special interest in competitive athletics and was numbered among Warren's most ardent baseball, basketball and football fans. He served as a member of the advisory board of local baseball leagues and independent teams and was one of the prime movers in reorganizing the Warren Red Jackets. His counsel in these and other community matters was earnestly sought and highly valued by his associates.

Father Diamond is survived by three brothers: Frank P., sales manager of Frank and Seder of Philadelphia; Daniel A., of Lansdowne, head of the men's shoe department of Lit Brothers Department Store, Philadelphia, and Edmund Diamond, of Lansdowne, who succeeded his father in the business which he founded.

Cardinals Win Over Giants In Tenth To Grab N. L. Lead

Bucs Move Into 4th Place, Beat Phils; Tribe Beaten Again

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

There never will be another "Gas use Gang" until there is anoth- Pepper Martin, but the present Louis Cardinals are the next t thing.

They are a hard-hitting, fast- ning never-say-die outfit with ht hitters batting more than 0 and seven pitchers with a win- g percentage, four of them hav- a combined won-lost record of 11.

They have a bristling, fiery-eyed le boss named Billy (The Kid) ithworth, who plays his cards h an abandon never equalled in major leagues.

This explains how the Redbirds ve performed such phenomena winning 20 games by one run how one pitcher, Lefty Ernie nite, captured three contests in many days to sweep a series m the New York Giants.

The Cardinals nosed out the Gi- s, 3-2 yesterday to bag their ond extra-inning tilt in two ys. White, last of four pitchers d by Southworth, fanned two n in the tenth to get credit for tenth triumph of the season.

The Giants made only four hits the regulation nine innings, five ogether, but one was Babe ung's single with the bases load- in the first. This was good ough to give New York a 2-1 d with St. Louis having two t and nobody on base in the last the ninth.

Then Frank Crespi and Terry ore, who hadn't hit all day, sin- d and Johnny Hopp doubled, ring Crespi, but Moore was tag- d at the plate.

In the tenth Enos Slaughter sin- d and Jim Brown doubled for winning run, giving the Cards ir fifth straight victory and ex- sive possession of the National ague lead, a half game ahead the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

The defeat tossed the Giants in- a fourth-place tie with the Pitts- rgh Pirates, who edged out the illies, 3-2, in the ninth for their th victory in 26 contests. The rates were shut out by Lee Gris- n till the seventh, but got one n then and two in the ninth. Stu rtin's single with the bases load- providing the winning margin. Babe Dahlgren's sixth-inning mer, his 14th of the season, apped a tie and gave the Chica- Cubs a 5-4 victory over his for- r teammate, the Boston Braves the other National League en- gement.

The New York Yankees contin- d their triumphant stride at the nt of the American League, ating the Cleveland Indians, 4- and stretching their first-place rgin to 10 games. Charley Kel- 's 24th homer with one on in the th decided the issue.

Catcher Bill Dickey was beaned one of Jim Bagby's fast balls. t the blow was a glancing one d he was able to walk off the ld unassisted, apparently just aken up.

The Philadelphia Athletics made hits, including homers by Sam hapman and Benny McCoy, to nip the St. Louis Browns, 9-7, d take over fifth place from the troit Tigers, who were beaten ain by the Washington Senators, 5. Hal Newhouse gave only six ts, but walked nine, including ree men in Washington's four- n ninth inning.

The Boston Red Sox retaliated r Wednesday's shellacking by the icago White Sox with an 11-1 ubbing of the Chicago crew.

WHIRLAWAY TO RUN

Chicago, July 25—(AP)—Whirlaway dares the graveyard of champions at Arlington Park tomorrow.

The king of the American turf will go to the post the topheavy favorite in the $60,000 Arlington Classic—a race in which many an odds-on favorite fell before the stretch charge of unheralded longshots.

ENDICOTT NINE TO PLAY FORGE IN TWIN BILL

A bolstered Lindy Miles nine from Endicott, N. Y., much stronger than that which dropped a doubleheader at Meadville to Cannavino's Pioneers early in the summer campaign, will meet the Forge in a bargain bill Sunday afternoon, the first game starting at 2 p. m., DST.

Three pitchers, all of them playing in organized loops last season, have joined up with the Endicott combine, plus many college stars that have been added since the summer vacation started.

Dominic Komodejz is one of the tossers. He was with Trenton in the Interstate League last summer. Earl Lockwood and Dick Bailey are the other two and both performed with Rome in the Canadian-American circuit last year.

Other stars who have been added are such college players as Shorty Ksionzyk, St. Bonaventure hardball star and all around athlete; Mike Kopcik, Georgetown; Stew Lare, Williams, and Ben Cizek, Hartwick.

These players are assets to the Lindy-Miles team and make them a challenge to any semi-pro club in the east. These fellows blend in well with a roster of veterans to step up the Endicott pace, as has been shown by their recent performance which have made their season's record something to marvel at after a shaky start.

The Endicott outfit will be in Wellsville Saturday night, where they may play the Sinclairs, who have beaten the Forgers two of three contests, before coming to Wilder Field, Irvine, on Sunday.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

With PONY League clubs flourishing in Bradford and Jamestown the talk about sports from local fans is definitely for big time sports, which means organized baseball in the summer time. Well, it's nice to have the talk, and it's swell to have visions of a fat sports bill of fare twelve months out of the year, but unfortunately the department that should be swelling is not, and that is this community's exchequer for sports activities. However, as we commented in a recent column, this town has more good sports than it realizes, and good sports aren't necessarily those that draw large crowds and gate receipts, but any that offer good, clean recreation to athletes. Therefore, we decided in that recent column to review what this town does possess and to forget, for the moment, what we'd like to have, but don't.

First of all, we've had, up until last year, a Sunset League for baseball plus a semi-pro club, which did the community proud in all of their efforts. Of course, at present we can have no hardball loop but next year may see the Sunset League re-established. This summer, not too far away, there's the National Forge ball club, with plenty of fine games on its slate that have already been played, and a lot more still coming up. Then, when the PONY League bids farewell to the sportlight come fall, while Jamestown and Bradford both take a breather except for their scholastic football scheds, it's Warren's turn to howl, and the Red Jackets flock onto Russell Field to give fans some professional football that can't be surpassed in Western Pennsylvania or southwestern New York, and that's taking in quite a bit of territory, which proves we have something great. Of course, football season is brief, and the Jackets don't get an opportunity to entertain the public like baseball teams do, but they still remain as this section's leading treat in autumn. Then, winter, and one of the finest high school cage combinations in the Northern League of District Nine usually takes the court for W. H. S. Spring, and the sports picture is wrapped around bowling, where the Inter-City League and several town circuits, plus big sweepstakes steal the spotlight, and in bowling this town can match either Bradford or Jamestown.

The summertime, and we haven't a major sport before us, at least not this year. But the sport picture still is full. This year it's the City League softball teams and the Forgers, and soon there'll be a tennis tourney that is expected to go over big. And those sports may not pack them in, but they keep the town lively, and they're good recreation. Also in the summer are the playgrounds in this city where one of the busiest and finest programs in this section of the state has been mapped out each year by capable playgrounds Director H. G. Kolpien, who is also noted for a couple of basketball honors in coaching. As far as our not being in the PONY League, though we all admittedly are looking forward to some day seeing an entry in this town, local fans needn't travel far to see good baseball. They have Jamestown, Bradford or Erie for minor league ball, and Irvine for sandlot games. But, when it's fall, there's only one center for pro football, and then Bradford, Jamestown, Erie, Kane, Sheffield, and other cities' fans trek to Warren, the home of good semi-pro grid teams. That's why this corner says, let's appreciate what we do have, 'cause we have a lot, don't we?

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, July 25—Lou Gehrig's dog, "Kim," is the first "player" named for "The Life of Lou Gehrig." . . . Weather for the start of the St. Paul open golf was almost as hot as Ben Hogan. . . . Arlington Park will have 440 selling and cashiering windows open for tomorrow's rich classic. . . . Those Martian-looking football headgears Northwestern's eleven introduced last fall have been adopted by the Army for the use of parachute troops at Fort Benning, Ga. . . . Craig Wood keeps right on playing like a champ, even in exhibitions—69 at Kansas City, 70 at Louisville, 68 at Pittsburgh and 65 at Buffalo. . . Dick Wakefield, the Tigers' $45,000 beauty, may not know it yet, but he's moving into a pitcher's league at Winston-Salem in the Piedmont.

Today's Guest Star

Sid Benjamin, Hazleton (Pa.) Plain-Speaker: "No wonder the St. Louis Browns lost to the Trenton Interstaters at Trenton Tuesday night. . . . The Browns aren't used to playing before such large crowds."

Around and About

If you think you have to play on a big college team to make a name for yourself, what about all the little Rockhurst College is getting for the all-star team? . . . Randy Scott, the he-man film star, has four birdies to his credit in the Peter Dawson national ringer tournament. . . . Willie Turnesa, former amateur golf champ, now in business in Detroit, has been promoted to the point where he has to have a secretary. . . . Attendance at pro and open golf tournaments is up 30 per cent from last year. . . . Ben Hogan, who has finished in the money in 51 consecutive tournaments, never has seen a big league ball game, but he is planning to take time off in October to see the Yankees and maybe the Dodgers. . . . Until beaned by Kirby Higbe Wednesday night, Frank McCormick had a streak of 549 consecutive big league games.

Today's Haw

Since Fordham started to crash the football big-time some years back, Boston College hasn't been considered big enough game for the Ram schedule. . . . Just the same, seven Boston College players have been picked for the eastern all-star team which will be coached by Jim Crowley—of Fordham.

RECORD NUMBER ENTER IN STATE PUBLINX EVENT

BY JOHN CAMPBELL

Hershey, Pa., July 25—(AP)—Pennsylvania's John Does' of golf—the public links players—came into their own today with a field of 138 lined up for the 72-hole chase to the state's pay-as-you-play championship.

Early favorite in the two-day slugfest at match play was slamming Sammy Musico, of Pittsburgh, the defending titleholder but Vash Hromyak, of Sharon and Wilmer Faber, of Reading, both former state champions, were tabbed as potential repeaters.

Rapidly swelling entries—they continued to pour in right up to last night's deadline—assured the largest field in the event's history and forced officials to shove ahead the opening time. Andrew Petrucci, of Philadelphia, was given the day's opening spot at 6:30 a. m. (EST).

Hard-baked closely - trimmed fairways of the tricky Hershey Park course helped the long hitters in early practice rounds but only a few kept scores. As far as single holes were concerned William Kush, of Bethlehem, set the pace. He turned in an ace on the 113-yard 14th.

Bracketed high in the list of ex-champions were George Bradley, of Philadelphia, and Carl Kauffman, of Pittsburgh. Bradley won the title in 1936 and 1939 while Kauffman turned the trick in 1937. They hold the course record of 69, two under par.

Joseph Spesak, playing on his home course, was also conceded an edge over most of the field as was Hal Brewer, former captain of the Purdue University golf team and Indiana amateur champion. Both are familiar with every slope of the sporty layout and Spesak has won the Hershey Park Championship for three straight years. Brewer was medalist in this year's park golf club championship.

Hospital Nine Meets Jamestown Tomorrow

The Jamestown Spiders, entered in the Interstate baseball league, will play against the State Hospital at North Warren Saturday afternoon.

Currently in second place in the circuit, the Spiders will bring a strong team to oppose "Rabbit" Swanson's men.

Jim Rose is expected to do the tossing for North Warren, and W. Barr may go to the mound for the Spiders.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m. DST.

FORD CITY UNBEATEN IN SEMI-PRO TOURNEY

Vandergrift, July 25—(AP)—The state's semi-pro baseball tournament was reduced to an even dozen teams with the elimination yesterday of three who suffered their second defeat.

Ousted were the Pittsburgh Monarchs, beaten by New Freedom, 9-6, the Vandergrift Grays, losers to Butler 9-8, and the Leechburg Marconi Club, defeated by East Butler, 7 to 1.

Ford City remained in the undefeated bracket by winning from Brackenridge SWOC 8 to 3.

Today Vandergrift Elkland plays Greensboro Warwicks, Ford City meets Vandergrift and Lower Burrell tangles with New Freedom.

Local Fan Helps Bucs Defeat Phillies, 3-2

Johnny Ward, of North Warren, has a good reason to remember witnessing his first big league baseball game. Yesterday at Pittsburgh Coach Honus Wagner, of the Buccos, invited him to sit on the bench in the Pittsburgh dugout. It was before game time, during the Phillies batting practice, and thirteen year-old Johnny had a chance to talk with the players and get their autographs.

Every member of the Pirate squad was friendly to Johnny, especially Pitcher Joe Bowman, who eventually was the winning pitcher in yesterday's thriller.

When Pittsburgh won the game in the last of the ninth, and Bowman was the winner, Johnny felt he had had a pretty good time at the ball game.

P. S.—Honus Wagner asked Mrs. Ward if the community here had done anything about fixing up the ball park. Mrs. Ward countered with a reply that we hope to have a good ball park soon. Ahem!

Eagles Even Series With Marconi Club By 10 to 4 Victory

It was a different story last night, when the Eagles and Marconi Club met for the second time this season, than their first meeting in Sheffield about a month ago, for last night the Eagles drubbed the Marconis at Wilder Field, Irvine, by a score of 10 to 4.

Nine hits plus five errors committed by the losers, enabled the Eagles to avenge their earlier defeat and come on to win last night's game hands down.

Paul Rogers, who lost a heartbreaker at Ludlow last week, was the winning tosser in last night's struggle, while Floyd Kifer, one of the Marconi Club's best hurlers, was charged with the loss.

The losers had a one run lead in the first inning, but after that they never were ahead. In the second, the Eagles tied the score, then added three runs in the third, five in the fourth, and one more in the fifth of the seven inning encounter.

The Marconis scored three more runs, one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

"Happy" Albaugh made his debut with the Eagles last evening and led the hitting with three hits in four trips, including a double. He batted in two runs.

The Marconi Club will play the Jamestown Spiders in an Interstate League ball game Sunday at Jamestown. Presently, the local club is leading the Interstate League with three wins and no losses.

Meanwhile, the Eagles will play the Kane Ryan Club on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Kane, and will tangle with the Ludlow Wildcats next Thursday evening in a twilight tilt. Both of these clubs own close victories over the Eagles.

Don McNeill Upset In Sea Bright Play

Sea Bright, N. J., July 26—(AP)—The enigma that is Donald L. McNeill, tennis champion of the United States, remains unsolved.

"For the life of me, I don't know what's wrong. Your guess is as good as mine". This from McNeill himself.

Yesterday, in the quarter final round of the 54th annual Sea Bright Tournament, McNeill fell victim of the tournament's biggest upset. He was beaten by 20-year-old Ted Schroeder in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5.

McNeill wasn't the only victim, Frankie Parker, was crushed by Wayne Sabin, 6-2, 6-4.

Today's semi-finals will pit Sabin against Schroeder and Bobby Riggs against Gardnar Mulloy.

PROS GUNNING FOR HOGAN AT ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Minn., July 25—(AP)—Maybe Little Ben Hogan can add more cash to the $11,000 or so he has won already this season by finishing well up in the $7,500 open golf tournament starting today, but if he does it will be only after a battle.

Grapevine reports say Hogan's feat of placing in the money in 52 consecutive tournaments have aroused the other pros and they are out to stop him this time. But the 135-pound Texan will take some stopping, for he apparently is definitely on his game.

Hogan fired a 67 in the pro-women preliminary round over the sun-baked Keller course yesterday, which is five under par, but he still was behind Sam Snead who blasted a 66.

PENNSYLVANIA OIL NEWS

MORE MOTOR OIL FROM PENNSYLVANIA REGION THAN EVER BEFORE

OIL CITY, PA.—More lubricating oil has been made from Pennsylvania Grade crude in recent years than at any time in the 80-year history of these, the oldest oil fields in the world. In spite of this fact, oil men often hear these questions: "Are those old fields still producing?" "How much Pennsylvania oil is there?"

Figures just published in the Penn Grade Bulletin show that in 1940, the Pennsylvania region produced more than a billion gallons of crude oil—1,132,824,000 gallons to be exact.

The average yield of lubricants from a barrel of Pennsylvania Grade crude is 23 per cent. Therefore some 260,553,520 gallons of Pennsylvania Motor Oil could have been made last year—more than enough to lubricate half of the vehicles on the roads in the United States. Actually not all of these lubricants were made into motor oil because some of the material went into industrial oils and oils for special purposes.

Furthermore, Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil yields larger amounts of lubricating oil stocks than any other type of crude oil—and this crude oil provides the finest raw material for motor oil the world has ever known.

100% PURE PENNSYLVANIA OIL

For your protection fine oils made from 100% Pure Pennsylvania Grade Crude are entitled to carry this emblem, the registered badge of source, quality, and membership in our Association.

HEARTBREAK HONEYMOON

by WATKIN[illegible]HT

Chapter 26
Surprise For Marie

UP in New York Marie Mason was dressing. She had slept late, and she had awakened feeling horribly low. Henry . . . Tommy. . . . She had quarreled with the one, and neglected the other. She had been an awful little fool. Everything had gone utterly wrong. She felt completely disgusted with the world and everything in it.

But she kept on thinking about Tommy, and the way she had treated him since the arrival of Henry and Luella Pell. Dear, dear Tommy. He had been good to her, so unselfish and so much in love with her. And she had treated him shamefully.

She had let her feeling for Henry make her forget everything else—even Tommy's kindness, the way he had helped her get established. And that, she told herself with emphasis, was where she had been even more of a fool.

Why Tommy McIntyre was going places in the world of radio! Of course, he was. He stood high with his superiors, and he was going to have a lot to say about who worked on those recordings his firm was making. "We'll be to the radio world," Tommy had once said, "what Edison was to the phonograph world. . . . You know, Marie—making records to be sold or rented to broadcasting stations throughout the world, even Canada—maybe Europe, if they ever stop fighting over there."

He had then explained that they might even make recordings of an entire evening's entertainment of vaudeville — songs, tap-dancing, jokes, sketches, monologues. All that, and she had been so busy adoring Henry Pell and helping him get the negro songs ready she had completely and utterly overlooked all the opportunities Tommy might make possible. Her songs recorded. . . . Percentages, royalties.

"Marie Mason," she thought, "it's time you got busy and stopped centering all your energies on one man."

She picked up the telephone with a quick, determined move. She asked for the number of Tommy McIntyre's office. She would be nice to him, and maybe he would invite her to lunch. They could go to some quiet place, and slowly, carefully, she would begin her campaign to win him back.

"Hello!" she said, when a voice spoke at the other end of the line. "May I speak to Mr. Thomas McIntyre?"

"I'm sorry," said the voice. "But Mr. McIntyre isn't in."

"Can you tell me when he will be in?"

"He left for Florida an hour ago."

"Florida!"

"Yes."

"But, I—that is—" Marie caught herself. "This is Miss Mason speaking. I was especially anxious to get in touch with Mr. McIntyre. I wonder if you can tell me where I can reach him?"

"No, Miss Mason," said the voice. "Just a moment . . . I'll connect you with Mr. Greenwood."

"Thank you," said Marie.

No Luck

MR. GREENWOOD was on the wire almost at once. Marie explained who she was.

"Oh, Miss Mason!" said Mr. Greenwood. "Of course! Many's the time I've heard you sing. What can I do for you?"

"I wanted to talk to Mr. McIntyre," said Marie. "But I was told he had just left for Florida. I thought perhaps you—"

"Tommy?" said Mr. Greenwood. "Yes, he took a sudden notion that he needed a vacation, and off he went. I persuaded him to mix business with pleasure. He's—"

"Have you his address?"

"No, unfortunately, I haven't. You see, he's driving down more or less leisurely—stopping off in Charlotte, North Carolina, Spartanburg, South Carolina, and Atlanta, Georgia—to look into the radio situation. He's to get in touch with me on his way."

"I see," said Marie. "Thank you."

"Shall I get in touch with you when I hear from Tommy?"

"If it's not too much trouble," said Marie.

"No trouble at all," said Mr. Greenwood. Must be nice to this Southern girl with the moving voice—her records ought to sell like hot-cakes. "Always glad to be of service to the Singer of Songs from way down South." He chuckled. "By the way, that new program you're on is a honey, Miss Mason."

"Thank you," said Marie. "You're very kind."

A moment later she hung up her receiver. Tommy going to Florida without saying goodbye. It was cruel of him. The least he could have done was telephone her before leaving.

She frowned, and began to move restlessly about the room. She felt sunk, absolutely. She began more and more to regret her treatment of Tommy, also the quarrel with Henry. She had been utterly brainless in her handling of both men. Someone ought to take her in hand, and give her a good talking-to.

Henry . . . Tommy . . . Henry. Well, Henry was still in town, wasn't he? Of course. Then why not get in touch with him, say she was sorry about the quarrel?

Again she picked up her receiver. And when Henry Pell answered very promptly, she felt better.

"Henry, this is Marie," she said.

"Yes?" said Henry—in a tone of voice that wasn't at all friendly.

"Take me to lunch, Henry, will you?" Marie went on. "I'm terribly sorry about last night. I want to tell you in person."

"Very well," Henry said. "I've got some things I'd like to talk over with you. Where shall we meet?"

"In the British Restaurant, down in the sunken plaza," she said. "You can buy me a mutton chop. There are so few places where one can get them."

"Okay. One o'clock all right?"

"Splendid!" said Marie. "I'll be there on the dot—wearing a gardenia so you'll know me." She laughed lightly. "Don't meet the wrong girl, Henry, dear."

"Nope!" said Henry, still not very friendly-like. Marie thought. "I must get back to some work now. See you later."

Marie was on the dot, and she was wearing a gardenia; not for identification purposes, but because a gardenia went well with the silver-fox trimming of her new and expensive ensemble.

"Here, by the window," said Henry. "We can watch the sunshine play on the silent fountain."

"Thank you, Henry," said Marie. They sat down. "Now, let me say in person and in all humility that I'm terribly sorry I was such an awful female last evening. I must have sounded like something out of the gutter."

"Let's forget it," said Henry.

"And go on from there?" Marie asked, eyeing him.

Henry, Too

"YEP, on from there," said Henry. "Only, I'm going away for awhile."

"You are?" First Tommy—now Henry."

"Yep. Business." Henry gave their orders, then he went on. "My firm is sending me south. They are interested in timber down in the Carolinas, now that the paper-making industry is waking up in our country; you know, paper from wood-pulp."

"Yes, I know about it," said Marie. "I read an article about it in a magazine."

"A well informed lady!" Henry said, smiling for the first time.

Marie didn't smile, however. A sudden thought came to her. Henry taking a trip south . . . Luella already there . . . darned funny, she thought, this decision to head in that direction. Did it mean that he was going down to get Luella?

"I suppose," she said, trying to speak casually, "that you'll stop off in our hometown, and say hello to Luella."

"Luella's not there," said Henry.

"Where is she?"

"Florida, by now. . . . She was on her way when I heard from her this morning."

"Florida!"

"Yes. . . . A special delivery this morning. It was posted in a town somewhere in South Carolina."

"You mean she's—she's—"

"I mean she's on her way to Florida to get one of those ninety day divorces we've been hearing about."

"But, Henry . . . did you know she—"

Henry went right on. "And, believe it or not, Tommy McIntyre has turned over his cottage to her," he said. "He told her to live in it while she was establishing her residence, and to— say, what's the matter?"

"You say Tommy let her have his cottage?" Marie asked, in an odd sort of voice.

"Yes. Good old family friend, you know. . . . Always willing to help out the family feud. . . . Always—"

"Yes, I know," said Marie. "But did you know Tommy was on the way to Florida?"

"No!"

"Well, he is. He left this morning."

"Well, I'll be—"

Marie shrugged. "It sounds like a drawing room comedy or something," she said. "First, Luella walks out on you, and—"

"No," Henry contradicted. "First, you fly to Chicago and Luella finds out. She—"

"She jumps at silly conclusions," said Marie. Then she went on with what she had started out to say. "First, Luella walks out on you—then Tommy gives her his cottage—then she goes to Florida, and now Tommy's on his way to the same place. What, may I ask, does it all add up to?"

"An infernal triangle," said Henry.

"But where do I come in?"

"You make it an infernal complication."

"Oh, I do, do I? Well, what are you going to do about it?"

"I don't know," said Henry, confused and annoyed. "The way things have been happening to me here of late, I—feel dazed."

"Well, you've got to do something, haven't you?" said Marie.

Henry looked at her. "What would you suggest?" he asked.

Offensive Resumed by Nazis

A military spokesman announced that Finnish forces were threatening the Leningrad-Murmansk railway northeast of Leningrad, having forced a passage between Lake Ladoga and Lake Onega. (This presumably is in the Petrozavodsk region, where there has been heavy fighting for nearly a week.)

He also reported threats to Leningrad from the southwest and south, where he said German units were making steady progress on both sides of Lake Peipus and Lake Ilmen, each about 130 miles from Leningrad.

At the same time, a belated report by informed sources said a strong bunker group in the Stalin line known as Emil Ezyn, south of the Pinsky marshes, surrendered to the Germans yesterday.

They said that a fierce, 24-hour battle preceded the capitulation and that the Red army commander had strict orders to defend fortifications to the last man.

Up to last night, these sources said, 20,000 Russians had been captured in the Nevel area, on the northern sector of the eastern front, and the number of Red army deserters is increasing, particularly at points where political commissars have fallen.

The High Command communique asserted that "individual combat planes last night bombed military objectives in the eastern part of Moscow and north of the Kremlin."

German air operations extended from one end of the 2,000-mile front to the other, with action against ships on the White Sea, near the Arctic, and on the Black Sea, at the southern end of the front, these informants said.

which would have authorized the State Highway Department to take over 240 local bridges.

The governor said the cost of taking the bridges in every city of the state except Philadelphia would have "seriously interfered" with the normal road program.

The measure was introduced by Rep. Albert B. McClester (R-Butler).

James said that 3,800 of the 18,000 bridges now in the state highway system are inadequate to carry the weights of trucks.

"The Department of Highways is now engaged in a program of strengthening and reconstructing its lighter bridges, which may require five years for completion," the executive said.

Another bill the governor must act upon before August 15 would increase the maximum allowable weights of trucks to 42,000 pounds, from the present top of 39,900. It was one of the most controversial bills which the legislature considered in its nearly seven-month session.

James signed a bill creating the Pennsylvania Traffic Advisory committee to work with the federal government in troop movements over state roads. The committee also would furnish data on the number of trucks and buses available in an emergency—information which has been gathered by the state defense council and the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association.

Also signed by the governor was the second bill to bring milk sold on consignment under regulation of the milk control commission. The first bill to reach his desk was vetoed because it removed his authority to approve milk orders of the commission.

WAR BRIEFS

Cairo, Egypt, July 25—(AP)—Another swift-striking British night patrol dashed three miles out of beleaguered Tobruk to pound a strong point of the siege lines around the Libyan port with hand grenades in the darkness Wednesday, the British Middle East Command reported today.

Cairo, Egypt, July 25—(AP)—An Axis torpedo boat which approached a British convoy in the Mediterranean Wednesday was attacked by RAF fighter planes "and left sinking," the RAF Middle East communique reported today.

New York, July 25—(AP)—A Domei, Japanese news agency, broadcast quoted the counsellor of Japan's Moscow embassy today as saying that if the Russians must withdraw from their capital it will be burned to the ground as it was when Napoleon approached it.

OLD PUBLISHER ACTIVE

Oskaloosa, Kas., July 25.—(AP)—Frank H. Roberts, publisher of the Oskaloosa Independent since 1882, is 90 years old today. He celebrated his birthday by making up the editorial page of this week's issue and handsetting the headlines—just to show he can still do it. The paper was founded in 1860 by his father.

Trucker Trapped

It took hacksaws, crowbars, firemen, and plenty of advice from curbstone kibitzers to rescue George Arden, trapped in the cab of his truck when it overturned on a Chicago street.

BOY DROWNS IN HOLE IN THE MONONGAHELA

Point Marion, July 25—(AP)—James Irving Wheeler, 14, of Walnut Hill, who could not swim, was drowned last night while wading in the Monongahela river. He stepped into a ten-foot-deep hole five feet from shore.

Mrs. Joseph Wheeler, the boy's mother, was crossing the Point Marion bridge at the time and heard her son's companion cry for help. She raced to the point, unaware at the time it was her boy who drowned.

There was little doubt that Japanese authorities feared the valuable cargoes aboard their vessels might be impounded if President Roosevelt ordered Japanese credits frozen.

The big Japanese tanker Daini Ogura Maru sailed from here direct for Japan late last night with 4,500,000 gallons of California crude oil. Her sailing permit had been cancelled by the State Department, but this order later was revoked when the ship's master explained his vessel was bound for Yokohama, not any Indo-China port.

The rivers and harbors committee of the U. S. Congress will visit Erie Saturday on a tour of inspection of cities involved in the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence river waterways canal, it was reported today. retain the services of the citizen soldiers as long as the emergency might last, and Chairman Reynolds (D-SC) observed that it might be difficult to fix a time limit if congress declared an emergency.

The declaration of such an emergency was sought in proposed legislation sent to the committee yesterday by Secretary of War Stimson.

Meanwhile, a joint committee adjusted differences between senate and house on legislation calling for mandatory deferment of Selectees 28 years old or older. Approval of both houses appeared to be assured. The bill probably will be called up in the house for action next week.

The same measure would give the president authority to seize defense plants when he finds that there is interruption of production which would interfere with the defense program.

Candidates for the judgeships of supreme, superior and district courts will draw places on the ballot in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth at Harrisburg on Wednesday, July 30th.

There are very few contests in Warren county—none for county-wide offices. In Warren borough, the only contests on the primary ballot are for Republican nomination for council in two wards, the first and fifth.

For the judgeship of the 37th district, comprising Warren and Forest counties, there also is a contest on the Republican ticket between Allison D. Wade and LeRoy C. Eddy.

Mr. Wade stated yesterday afternoon that he is making plans to attend the drawing. Mr. Eddy had not fully decided at that time whether he would attend.

Candidates may appear in person at both drawings, or they may have their places drawn by proxy.

OFFER OF PROTECTION S REPORTED REJECTED

By the Associated Press

Japan's dream of conquest in he Pacific moved toward grim reality today with the reported mobization of 1,000,000 men, while at ea her ships blanked out in silnce and turned away from American shores.

Repercussions to Japan's coup roke swiftly around the globe.

In Hyde Park, N. Y., President oosevelt said the United States ould retaliate with specific action omorrow against Japan's occupaon of Indo-China naval and air ases.

Mr. Roosevelt would not say exctly what specific measures ould be taken, but members of he presidential party said the ost likely move appeared to be he "freezing" of Japanese creds and assets in the United States.

Dispatches from Saigon, French ndo-China, said concessions gaind by Japan include the right to tation warships in strategic Camnh Bay, on the southeast Indohina coast, only 800 miles from ingapore.

Moreover, these reports said, he Japanese may station warhips at the river port of Saigon, nd obtain seevral air bases in outhern Indo-China.

In London, Foreign Secretary nthony Eden told parliament that certain defense measures in Maya have already been enforced" o counter "the potential threat" f the Japanese occupation of rench Indo-China.

The House of Commons cheered hen Eden said the British govnment had "been in close touch ith the United States governent" on developments in the Far ast.

British dispatches from Singaore said France's colony in the rient ignored a recent offer of rotection by Great Britain, the nited States, China and the utch East Indies "against furth- encroachments from the outde."

In Rome, the authoritative Fast Editor Virginio Gayda declari the Indo-China thrust was "the rst episode" in Japan's "march to he south" and was undertaken in ll agreement with the other xis powers.

Foreign intelligence reports eaching Shanghai said the Japanse mobilization — the greatest nce July, 1937, when the war ith China began—had been in rogress since July 17 and was till continuing.

Troop destinations were kept ecret, but advance contingents ere expected to occupy newly-won r and naval bases in southern rench Indo-China on Sunday, and s one Hanoi newspaper put it:

"Indo-China is on the way to ingapore and the Netherlands ast Indies."

In Berlin, authorized sources declared Japan has informed Germany she is determined to oppose y every means any British atempt on French Indo-China or ny threat to Japan's "new order" n the Far East.

COMPROMISE ON YEAR EXTENSION IS ACCEPTABLE

Administration Leaders Make Known Willingness To Agree to Restriction If Convinced Move Will Increase Support for Legislation

BILL GOING TO HOUSE

BULLETIN

Washington, July 25—(AP)—Members of the senate military committee were reported today to have agreed informally on the general terms of a resolution by which congress would declare a limited emergency under which Selectees, National Guardsmen and Reserves could be retained in active army service beyond the present one-year limit. Senator Lee (D-Okla) told reporters when he came out of a closed session that a "count of noses" within the committee had disclosed no opposition to a proposal under which congress would be asked to find that the national interests were imperiled.

Washington, July 25—(AP)—Administration leaders made known today a willingness to compromise on a one-year extension of military service for Selectees, National Guardsmen and Reserves, if they were convinced such a move would increase congressional support for legislation to keep the present army intact.

Senator Hill of Alabama, the Democratic whip, told reporters he would offer no objection to a "reasonable" restriction on the additional time citizen soldiers might be called upon to serve over the present one-year limit.

Hill's statement lent impetus to a move by two other military committee members, Senators Austin (R-Vt) and Gurney (R-SD) to write a time clause into pending resolutions.

Austin, acting senate minority leader, said he favored a one-year extension, but Gurney suggested that it might be well to permit operation of the proposed legislation to continue until June 30, 1943.

On the other hand, Senator Thomas (D-Utah) said he thought the army ought to be authorized to

WAR BRIEFS

Berlin, July 25—(AP)—DNB, official German news agency, said today a German long-range naval battery shelled a British convoy sailing through the English channel under cover of darkness last night.

London, July 25—(AP)—Authoritative quarters reported today a slight renewal in the German offensive all along the Russian front. It was emphasized there was "no decisive result gained by either side at any given place" on the vast battlefield.

Shanghai, July 25—(AP)—A Japanese military spokesman said today soldiers had been ordered to remove from the British ship Hilda Moller large quantities of cotton and textile machinery because it belonged to the Chinese government at Chungking.

Sydney, Australia, July 25—(AP)—Australian navy minister William M. Hughes appealed today for volunteers owning suitable boats to join the naval auxiliary patrol so that the entire coastline might be watched for offshore rescue work, troop ship escorting and harbor patrolling.

Berlin, July 25—(AP)—Jews of all nations are excluded from indemnity for losses due to an act of war such as bombing of a home, a decree in the official Reich's law gazette said today. The decree also provided that should an Aryan suffer loss or damage while on a Jew's property the Jew will be obliged to make good.

London, July 25—(AP)—The House of Commons today passed the financial powers bill authorizing the government to contract the $425,000,000 RFC loan already announced in Washington.

Ickes Says Illinois Oil Measure is Joke

Washington, July 25.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes, the defense petroleum coordinator, calls the recently enacted Illinois petroleum conservation measure a "joke."

"It does not have a single conservation feature," the secretary declared at his press conference, "except misuse of the word (conservation) in the title.

"The title is wrong. It should be a bill to encourage waste of the mineral resources of Illinois."

The secretary said he did not know now whether under his powers as petroleum coordinator he could take direct measures for oil conservation in Illinois.

SEN. WHEELER CHARGES EFFORT TO "SMEAR" HIM

America First Committee Financed Printing of Cards and Mailing List Was Furnished by Member of Willkie's Staff, He Explains

NONE SENT TO CAMPS

Washington, July 25—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) contended today that President Roosevelt and Secretary Stimson were seeking to conduct "a smear campaign" against him and Charles A. Lindbergh because of their opposition to administration foreign policies.

Stimson told his press conference that Wheeler had mailed post cards to army officers and men urging them to oppose entry into the European war. The war secretary added that "this comes very near the line of subversive activities against the United States, if not treason."

Wheeler said subsequently that he had sent out about 1,000,000 postcards quoting speeches of Mr. Roosevelt and others regarding the European war. The senator added that none of the cards were sent to army camps. But since they were mailed to "cross section" of the population," he added, some may have been forwarded to army men from their former addresses.

Wheeler said the America First committee financed printing the cards and that the mailing list was obtained from Emil Hurja, a member of Wendell Willkie's staff in the 1940 presidential campaign.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) declared that Stimson had been "wholly unfair" to Wheeler in the statement he made.

"While we may not all agree with Senator Wheeler's views on foreign policy, none should doubt his sincerity, his integrity or his patriotism," Van Nuys said.

"The president and Secretary Stimson are seeking to smear Lindbergh and myself," Wheeler asserted, adding that this "smear campaign is very flattering to us, because they would not attack us unless they regarded us as effective opposition."

PLAN RIDERS TO FARM MEASURE

Washington, July 25.—(AP)—An attempt to curb by congressional action any price-fixing orders on farm products was planned today by Senators Smith (D-SC) and Thomas (D-Okla.)

Protesting that actions by Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, were "robbing farmers of a chance for a fair price," Chairman Smith said he would ask the senate agriculture committee to act on the matter at once.

"Henderson breaks the cotton market every time he opens his mouth," Smith, known as "Cotton Ed," said.

Senator Thomas, also critical of Henderson's price-fixing attempts, said he would offer two riders to a farm bill dealing with wheat

Record-Breaking Session of Pennsylvania Legislature, Which Lasted 191 Days, Estimated to Have Cost Approximately $1,600,000, With $774,000 Being Paid Out for Salaries for Senators and Representatives

JAMES CLEARS DESK OF IMPORTANT MEASURES

Harrisburg, July 25.—(AP)—The record-breaking 1941 session of the Pennsylvania legislature, which adjourned one week ago, cost approximately $1,600,000, officials estimated today.

The session lasted 191 days, longest since 1842.

Salaries for the 50 senators and 208 representatives totalled $774,000. They receive $3,000 for a regular session, an additional $500 for a special session and one may be called by Governor James to handle the congressional reapportionment problem.

The members, officers and employes of the legislature received $128,000 for mileage expenses, $89,000 for the house and $39,000 for the senate.

Salaries of employes, printing and incidentals make up the remainder of the expense.

The expense was greater than any previous regular session in modern times, legislative officials said.

Governor James meanwhile cleared his desk of several important measures, vetoing one bill

JAP MERCHANT FLEET MARKING TIME OFFSHORE

San Francisco, July 25.—(AP)—Japan, taking no chances on having her finest liners and cargo vessels seized by the United States, imposed strict orders of radio silence today on her vast merchant fleet, halted suddenly on the high seas.

Japan was clearly apprehensive as a result of President Roosevelt's denunciation of Indo-China occupation.

Forty-two Japanese ships were reported marking time at sea, some just a safe distance offshore, or turning back to Japan. Japanese ships in Pacific coast ports rushed loading operations. Sailings of two Nipponese cargo boats from Yokohama to the United States were cancelled.

The whereabouts of the fast 17,600-ton liner Tatuta Maru, due here at 5 a. m. yesterday, was a mystery. Last evening the big ship was seen cruising leisurely 12 miles off shore later she had vanished. Like all other Japanese ships, she answered no radio calls.

The Tatuta Maru was laden with 5,588 bales of raw silk valued

The verdict, returned late yesterday, stated the blast was caused by an accumulation of gas and names Charles Ramsell as having been negligent.

Hosts of Friends of All Faiths From Every Walk Of Life Grieve Over the Passing of Beloved Priest In Charge of Local Church 17 Years

BODY TO LIE IN STATE

Hosts of friends of all faiths and from all walks of life were deeply grieved to learn of the death of the Rev. Father Joseph H. Diamond, pastor of St. Joseph's church here for the past 17 years, which occurred last evening at the Warren General Hospital after a long illness.

In ill health for the past two years, Father Diamond's condition had been considered serious since shortly after the first of the year.

Not only was he one of Warren's best known citizens, but one of the best known of northwestern Pennsylvania's Catholic clergymen and through his fraternal affiliations had a wide circle of friends throughout the state.

Since coming to Warren he has been actively interested in civic affairs, as well as the activities of his church. His participation in community projects brought him hundreds of friends outside of his own faith.

Friends may call at St. Joseph's rectory from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening except Sunday, when they may call from 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Translation of the body from the rectory to St. Joseph's church will take place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The body will lie in state at the church until the hour of the service.

Recitation of the Divine Office will take place on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Solemn requiem high mass will be sung on Monday mornihg at 10:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the Priests' Circle in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Joseph Henry Diamond, a son of John and Mary Diamond Diamond, was born in Philadelphia, November 12, 1884. His father, a native of Scotland, spent his younger life and was educated in Ireland. After coming to America, he spent four years as a salesman and returned to Ireland where he married Mary Diamond and returned to make his home in Philadelphia where he was a successful manufacturer of shoe blacking, ink, muselage, laundry blue, etc.

A devout member of the Roman Catholic church, he was president of St. Vincent DePaul Society of St. Agatha parish in Philadelphia for many years prior to his death, and for 30 years was a member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. He served as a private in the Civil War, and was a member of the G. A. R. and the K. of C.

Father Diamond attended the parochial schools of St. Agatha's parish and graduated from Catholic High School. He entered St. Bonaventure's College at Allegany, N. Y., where he graduated and was ordained on June 10, 1911, by the Most Rev. Charles H. Colton, Bishop of Buffalo.

His first appointment was as assistant to Monsignor Sheridan at St. Joseph's parish at Oil City where he served from June, 1911 to January 1913.

He then became assistant to

FOOD POISONING CASE IS PROBED

Frenchville, July 25.—(AP)—Dr. E. S. Erhard, acting Clearfield county coroner, said today several cans of condensed milk have been sent to laboratory experts at Pennsylvania State College to determine if the milk was the cause of food poisoning which killed a four-year-old boy and made five other children ill.

Dr. Erhard said the grandparents of the dead child, James Chandler of Emporium, had bought a case of milk several days ago and various members of the family later became ill.

The boy died Wednesday at the home of his grandfather, William English of Frenchville R. D. The other children, reported to be recovering at a Philipsburg hospital,

LABOR DISPUTES KEEP SCORES OF WORKMEN IDLE

By the Associated Press

Labor disputes continued today in points as widely separated as southern California and the Florida keys.

Scores of women's garment factories in Los Angeles were picketed by striking workers, and AFL construction laborers remained away from their jobs on army and navy building projects at Key West, Fla.

The Los Angeles strikes, called by the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers' union in support of demands for wage increases, affected about 3,000 workers, the majority of whom were sewing machine operators.

One hunored of the 1,000 striking Key West workers went back to their jobs this morning when the Paul Smith Construction Company, contractor for part of the work, met the 62½ cents demand. Albury rejected a compromise offer of a 10 cents an hour increase for the rest of the workers.

Charles Albury, was installed as president of the Key West union local after the members removed his predecessor for opposing the strike. Albury announced yesterday that the navy had authorized employment of civil service workers in place of the strikers, if the

Pittsburgh, July 25—(AP)—Rivermen recovered the body of Dora Whiteside, 30, Bellevue waitress, from the Allegheny river yesterday in almost the exact spot where she drowned when a canoe in which she was riding with a companion capsized.

Edward Twigger, superintendent aboard a Dravo Contracting Company dredge discovered the body opposite Blawnox. The accident occurred Wednesday.

U. S. OFFICIALS OUSTED BY REICH TO SAIL TONIGHT

Lisbon, July 25—(AP)—Several hundred Americans, including consular officials, employes and their families ordered out of Germany, Italy and Axis-occupied countries, are scheduled to sail for home tonight aboard the U. S. naval transport West Point.

The passenger list was completed last evening when a special train bearing 66 tired, sooty men, women and children crossed into Portugal at Vilar Formosa—the last of 248 Americans to arrive from Germany and German-occupied territory.

Word that their train had crossed the border was the signal for 200 German consular officials and their families—ordered out of the United States—to disembark from the West Point.

Among the Americans who arrived yesterday from the Reich were 16 volunteer ambulance drivers, who were bound for the Middle East aboard the Egyptian ship Zamzam when she was torpedoed and sunk April 17 in the south Atlantic.

At first, one of the drivers said, the Germans let them go shopping under guard, but he added:

"They got less kind to us after three of our men—Ray Colcord, Donald King and William Davidson—escaped, and our guard received instructions to shoot if any of us tried the same thing."

The three drivers entered Switzerland and subsequently joined the diplomatic group en route from Italy to Lisbon.

Two other ambulance drivers—

ARMY PILOTS KILLED IN CRASH OF BOMBER

Mt. Gilead, O., July 25.—(AP)—Two U. S. army pilots ferrying a Lockheed-Hudson bomber to Canada for delivery to the British royal Air Force perished in flames late yesterday as their twin-motored ship plowed into a central Ohio cornfield.

Major Robert H. Baker, contact officer for the army's "ferry command" at Patterson Field in Dayton, identified the victims as First Lt. R. F. Rush of Tucson, Ariz., and Second Lt. N. L. Warner.

He said the plane, bearing R. A. F. insignia, left Patterson Field for Montreal, Canada, less than an hour before it plunged to earth in bright sunlight.

Eye-witnesses reported that the ship spiraled to earth, its motors roaring, and burst into flames after a series of explosions. Both bodies were burned beyond recognition.

OFFENSIVE RESUMED BY NAZIS

Morning War Bulletin Issued at Moscow Declares . . Bitter Battles Continuing Not Only at Smolensk But Also in the Zhitomir Sector West of Kiev, The Petrozavodsk Area And on the Finnish Front In the North

BERLIN ACKNOWLEDGES RESISTANCE IS STIFF

BULLETIN

London, July 25.—(AP)—The Moscow radio went off the air shortly after 7 o'clock tonight (noon, EST). This sometimes signals the beginning of an air raid.

Moscow, July 25.—(AP)—Soviet troops defending the road to Moscow were reported today to have wiped out an entire German infantry division near Smolensk, and the Russian capital's air defenses were credited officially with beating off a fourth successive night assault by the luftwaffe.

Bitter battles, the morning war bulletin declared, continued all last night not only at Smolensk but also in the Zhitomir sector west of Kiev, the Petrozavodsk sector on the Finnish front north of Lake Ladoga, and the Porkhov and Polotsk-Nevel area south of Leningrad.

In all sectors the Russians were said to be battling "stubbornly."

Annihiliation of the Nazi division was claimed in a communique which indicated the Germans were throwing great masses of troops into action in an effort to smash Russian resistance in the Smolensk area, some 230 miles west of Moscow.

The communique said the division was "freshly arrived at the front" and was smashed by Red Army units "resisting the offensive of large enemy forces."

There was no hint in the bulletin that the German offensive had gained any ground, either in the Smolensk sector or elsewhere.

Heavy fighting was reported in the vicinity of Porkhov, 150 miles south of Leningrad, and Zhitomir, 75 miles west of Kiev on the Ukraine front—sectors which have been mentioned so consistently in Russian communiques as to give the impression that the Germans are stalled there.

"In other directions and sectors of the front," the bulletin added, "No great battles were reported."

The German air force struck twice at Moscow during the night, but an official announcement said only one raider penetrated the capital's defenses and that it was shot down. Another plane was reported destroyed outside Moscow.

Berlin, July 25—(AP)—The German High Command declared today that large numbers of prisoners and war material were falling daily into German hands and asserted the campaign against Russia is proceeding according to plan, but acknowledged that the Red army still is putting up stiff resistance.

COAST PATROL IS BEING ORGANIZED

San Francisco, July 25—(AP)—Taking a lesson from Dunkerque and the priceless aid rendered the British by a motley volunteer fleet of small boats, the navy is organizing an auxiliary of small craft along the Pacific coast for close in patrol work in case of war.

The little fishing and pleasure boats that ply coastal waters, and know every inlet and bar are being mobilized by the hundreds and arrangements have been made to fit them with suitable guns if a coast defense emergency arises.

It is all being done on a volunteer basis, Twelfth Naval District officers say. Skippers, along with their crews, are being inducted into the Naval Reserve at San Francisco, Monterey, Eureka and

SELECTEES ARE ENTERTAINED BY CITIZEN GROUP

A number of Warren county youths who will leave next Monday morning for New Cumberland, to be inducted into the army under the Selective Service act, were guests at a dinner sponsored by the Citizens Committee through the co-operation of the borough council and county commissioners.

The dinner was served by members of the American Legion Auxiliary at the home. Attorney R. Pierson Eaton acted as toastmaster, and the short address was delivered by Major T. W. McAllister, commanding officer of the Du-Bois sub-district of the Officers' Reserve.

Major McAllister spoke briefly about his experience in trying to join the armed forces of the country before he was of age. He also informed the boys on some of the fundamentals of army life and advised them regarding some of the more important details which will help to make their period of induction more pleasant and profitable. The speaker stressed the importance of obedience, promptness, alertness, health, religious observance and finally the benefits of writing home regularly.

Lieut. Victor VerMilyea, also of the Officers' Reserve, was an invited guest.

The boys will leave Monday morning on the eastbound train for the army induction center, at which time members of the committee will be on hand to give them cigarettes and candy.

OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR ALUMINUM THIS EVENING

Heeding the request of the committee in charge of Warren's aluminum collection campaign, housewives this morning started placing their discarded kitchen utensils and other aluminum articles on their porches and in other easily accessible places for collection this afternoon and evening by Boy Scouts and other volunteer workers.

Indications this morning pointed to a fine response to the call for the scrap metal, which is to be used in defense industry.

Tomorrow morning at ten o'clock a special movie show will be given at the Library Theatre for "youngsters" from 6 to 60. The only cost of admission is some discarded aluminum utensil.

A fine program has been arranged, the feature picture being "The Virginian," with Errol Flynn and Olivia DeHaviland.

In connection with today's collection, it was stated that those who might be missed this afternoon will be canvassed tomorrow.

Buns and Biscuits Buoy Breakfasts

TUCKED in a warmer (a sight to warm the appetite!) so that butter will melt in their "middles," these biscuits and buns, made with Rumford Baking Powder, bid for breakfast, lunch or dinner fame. They're easy-to-make hot-breads as the recipes below prove:

Basic Baking Powder Biscuits

2 cups flour
2 teaspoons Rumford Baking Powder
1 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons shortening
½ cup milk (about)

Sift flour, Rumford Baking Powder and salt together. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured surface and knead gently for 30 seconds. Roll out to ½ inch-¾ inch thickness. Cut into rounds of desired size and place on greased baking pan. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 12-15 minutes. Makes 18 biscuits (2 inches diameter).

Pecan Buns

Cream 6 tablespoons brown sugar and 3 tablespoons butter until well blended. Spread in bottom of well-greased muffin pans and place 3-4 pecan halves on top of this mixture. Make baking powder biscuits as in basic recipe using 4 tablespoons shortening. Roll out to ¼ inch thickness and brush with 2 tablespoons melted butter. Sprinkle with ½ cup brown sugar. Roll as for jelly roll and cut in 1 inch slices and place cut sides down in prepared muffin pans. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 20-25 minutes. Makes 18 small buns.

SHEFFIELD TO HAVE ALUMINUM DRIVE TONIGHT

Sheffield, July 25—Sheffield's contribution to the national drive to collect scrap aluminum will occur this evening when members of Boy Scout Troops 35 and 36, manning trucks donated for the purpose, will make a house to house canvass of the community and Barnes to gather all local donations of old pots, pans, percolators and other scrap aluminum. The collection of scrap will be kept under lock and key at the township until next week, when it will be transferred to Warren.

Citizens of the outlying districts of the township who have aluminum to contribute may leave it at the township building Saturday. The Boy Scouts will have members there all day to receive the donations.

Charles Slater, Scoutmaster, is in charge of the drive. The trucks which will be used in the undertaking were donated by the City Market, Home Telephone Company, C. W. Bramer, C. A. Dahl and Melvin Sauter.

In connection with the drive to collect aluminum, a special show will be held at the Utopian Theatre at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. H. H. Baldensperger, proprietor, has announced. The price of admission will be one piece of scrap aluminum. The offer is open to everyone, but should prove especially attractive to the boys and girls.

FATHER DIAMOND

Few men have had greater influence on Warren and its residents than Father Diamond, rector of St. Joseph's church, whose passing, although believed impending for many months, nevertheless seems to come as a severe shock to the entire community.

Father Diamond's influence did not begin or end with his work as pastor of St. Joseph's church. He was an inspiring preacher and leader, but his advice and assistance reached almost every activity in the community, whether it was religion, sport, welfare work, or civic projects. Enterprising, capable and forceful, he mixed idealism and realism in just the right proportions to make of himself an outstanding citizen. His service to Warren cannot be measured in dollars and cents, or by other physical standards, but that it is great and enduring none can deny. His passing is a distinct loss to the borough and county, as well as through the diocese and state.

It would be impossible here to pay tribute to the many fine qualities of virtue and helpfulness that Father Diamond exhibited through the years of his residence in Warren. Above all he loved his church and his parishioners, and nothing was ever left undone to promote the best interests of both. The thing that entitles him to rank among the greats and near greats is the fact that while his church came first, always, he found time to give of his own services and advice, toward the promotion of almost any project to help further the best interests of his beloved Warren.

He loved sports, including baseball, football and basketball, and the enjoyed just as much helping to make such entertainment possible for others. No person ever enjoyed the theatre more than Father Diamond. In good health he seldom missed a picture and he could always be found helping to put across promotions and contests to arouse interests in those things in which he himself found so much pleasure.

Father Diamond always was among the front ranks of the hardest workers for any project that had for its purpose the uplifting of humanity. In addition, however, his private benevolences always given quietly and generously, can never be estimated.

Father Diamond was the type of a man who never wearied of helping others, nor did he burden them with his own cares. Able and virile searcher after the right as he saw it, his life and actions were marked with consideration for the other man. Through a long and outstanding career he counted his friends in all religions and every walk of life, by those with whom he came in contact. When he preached, he preached well, just as when he loved, he loved well, and would do anything for a friend.

We are deeply sorry to see so lovable a man leave us. Certainly in a day of strain and struggle, there are all too few men willing to extend themselves for another, or fight for the right as they see it.

Friendliness and gentleness are attributes which never fade, for they make their possessor rich long after the mortal frame is gone. These attributes will keep the name of Father Diamond green among those who knew him for time to come.

If the Boy Scouts miss you today in their aluminum collection drive, they can be contacted to return tomorrow—or better still, take your donations to the bin at the north approach of the Hickory street bridge and toss it in yourself.

Motorists who have not already attended to that important task should remember that but one week remains in which to secure that new inspection tag.

According to reports several points in the county were heavily drenched yesterday while the borough received only a light shower.

Developments in Indo-China do not help the situation so far as mastering the spelling of some of the names in the war news is concerned.

Many in Warren have discovered that most vacationists go away for a little change and come back with a lot less.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Roseland dance hall is one of those modernly historic old places on Broadway without which no mention of the town would ever be complete. It is important because it has become a sort of legend, and yet it is real enough. People who haven't been there aren't sure exactly whether its a place to dance, or something they saw in a movie.

This is largely because Roseland has been used as background for so many movies, especially in the late twenties and early thirties, and because it has served as a hitching post for many fictionists. Ring Lardner and Sherwood Anderson both went to Roseland for color for their stories.

Well, Roseland is a dance hall on Broadway where Jean Arthur and George Raft used to win prizes for doing the Charleston. It pioneered in the jitney-dance idea. You buy yourself a ticket and you dance with a hostess. The house provides dozens of beautiful girls. You may, of course, bring your own girl. But the head hostess, Miss Florence Forder, will introduce you to any of the girls you like. . . . And if you want to make her your partner for the evening, the fee is $2.80 an hour.

ROSELAND goes back to a New Year's night in 1919, and to John McGraw, Will Rogers, Flo Ziegfeld, all there for the premiere festivities. . . . There were roses stuck in every nook and cranny, as there are today, thus justifying the name.

The real father of the Roseland is a young man by the name of Lou Brecker, a Philadelphian, who liked dancing and who has built a career around Broadway. He has had all of the well known orchestras from time to time, and he has gone in for sensationalism on occasion—once he staged a hot jazz wedding, with his hostesses serving as bridesmaids and the orchestra, heavy on the brass, doing strange and rhythmic things to the wedding march. But the couple were legally wed, amid the fanfare, and they are still married. Lou says they drop around to say hello and have a dance every now and then.

ON ANOTHER occasion he staged a marathon dance, but James J. Walker, who then was mayor, stopped it. Later Walker came around to see Brecker and posed with some of the hostesses, just to show there were no hard feelings.

Today, Roseland proper is a dance hall-cafe. . . . That is, you can order almost any kind of non-alcoholic beverage; but liquors are not permitted. Too many youngsters come there. The only thing Brecker wants you to get "high" on—is the music.

There are interesting points to the music at Roseland. . . . Mal Hallett, Claude Hopkins, Shep Fields, Fletcher Henderson and Vincent Lopez all got their starts there. . . . The Lindy Hop, the Charleston and the Black Bottom were introduced there. . . . It has been quite a place, Roseland, on Broadway, if you like to dance.

BACK TO SEA

Bethlehem, Pa., July 25.—(AP)—A crushed leg and the memory of 13 days in an open boat won't keep Melvin V. Mundy, first officer of the torpedoed Robin Moor, from going back to sea.

"He'll go back to sea when he's well again," said his wife. Mundy, 44, has followed the sea for 22 years, 10 of them as master of vessels.

The outer skin of the body is almost germ-proof.

WANT GRADUAL REDUCTION

Harrisburg, July 25.—(AP)—President John A. Phillips and Secretary Lester Thomas of the state industrial congressmen to make gradual the impending reduction in automobile production in order to avoid what they termed "the most serious unemployment crisis in the automobile industry."

Saida (or Sidon) in Syria is believed to be the most northern point visited by Jesus.

Letters to the Editor

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been reading about cities and black outs in the industrial and coastal areas. It has crossed my mind of the average towns and their chances during an air raid.

Warren is a typical town that wouldn't have the slightest idea of what to do if an air raid should come our way. You may say, "It never will affect us." I hope it never will be, but I'm not so sure. After all, the Germans are in Russia. Alaska is very close to Russia. Canada is close to Alaska, and we are very close to Canada.

For one, I would like to know what to do in case of an air raid. I may be falsely nervous, but the National Forge is near by, and Nazi aren't exactly discriminent with their bombing. Then, too, Struthers-Wells, the United Refining Co., and the Penn Furnace are in Warren.

A course in our high school on conduct during an air raid might be well attended. Though I felt the war would never come to Warren, I would feel compelled to attend that class because it would make me realize what others are going through. It would help me understand their position better and make me realize how important it is that we help England in order that we should not have to go through the same thing. The small towns of England know how to conduct themselver during an air raid. Why shouldn't we? Remember, that war could get here yet.

Part of an air raid is a well conducted blackout. Why can't Warren set the thousands of small industrial towns throughout the United States an example by an educational course in conduct during an air raid and by black out practice?

Certainly there must be enough interested leaders in Warren to form a committee to give Warren the opportunity of a course in the proper conduct for the average citizen during war times.

Why can't Warren invite Life Magazine's staff to a middle sized town that has been interested enough in current events to educate itself to the dangers in our own times? Why not invite them to our class room lessons? Why not invite Life to Warren's black out?

Community Minded.

The Times-Mirror

Dear Sir:

Some of us witnessed the appreciation of soldiers in the First World War for the helpfulness of such organizations as are now joining in the U. S. O. for the service of men under arms today.

All citizens who stay at home, if they have the slightest sense of gratitude, will desire to contribute toward the happiness and morale of our soldiers. This feeling of gratitude and obligation is probably uppermost in our minds as the opportunity is presented to contribute to the U. S. O.

But let us not forget at the same time, that some day this emergency will be over and the soldiers will come home. What sort of citizens will they be? Will they return resentful for neglect by us, or with the realization that we did what we could for their comfort and did not let them down? I believe we all should consider how much our gifts today may have to do with their attitude toward our society and our country when their term of service is over.

Yours for the U. S. O. and the U. S. A.

Harold C. Warren.

Precision in the order of cashing top cards often pays dividends when a bad break develops. Today's hand was played by J. M. Mathews, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo. It illustrates the importance of taking aces and kings in just the right order.

The contract of six no trump is warranted by the cards, for if the clubs break there are plenty of tricks. The opening lead was won by the ace of hearts.

Dummy led a low spade and the jack won. Another spade to the queen brought out the ace. East returned the ten of spades, forcing the king, and South let go a diamond.

Two top clubs were cashed, and the bad break was revealed. But with East holding the only stoppers in the black suits, a squeeze was sure to follow. South cashed the top hearts, the queen of diamonds, then led to dummy's top diamonds, on the last of which East found it impossible to hold protection in both black suits.

This is a simple squeeze, such as occurs in one or two boards of every duplicate game. Yet Mathews was the only player in this duplicate game to bag it.

The other South players all began by trying to run the club suit, before knocking out the ace of spades, so that East, on getting in with ace of spades, was able to force out South's third club honor and kill the vital re-entry for the squeeze situation.

Attesting to the growing popularity of home movies, is the increase in production of motion picture projectors using film of substandard gauge, chiefly 16 mm. and 8 mm. reported by the Census Bureau. In 1939, projectors of this type manufactured in the United States numbered 134,515 valued at $6,302,734 compared with 1937 figures, 114,593 and $4,869,156.

Alaska has produced more than $750,000 worth of minerals since it was acquired by the United States.

OUTING OF OLD GUARD ENJOYED AT THE WILLOWS

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller entertained at their home, The Willows at Rogers Mills, yesterday afternoon for the Old Guard, their ladies and a few invited guests, the occasion being the first picnic of the Warren Crapter since its organization nearly two years ago.

There were games for those who desired to play, while others, finding a shady spot on the spacious lawn, indulged in reminiscences or discussed matters of current interest. Meanwhile, the committee in charge was preparing tables and about five o'clock all sat down to the picnic dinner. Then followed brief remarks by various members and Reah Reynolds, an invited guest, proved a good entertainer.

An unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Miller for the fine hospitality shown the Old Guard, thus ending a most enjoyable afternoon.

The Old Guard is made up of men not actively connected with any business or profession. The local chapter is the second to be organized in the state, Oil City having been the first. The parent chapter is in Summit, N. J., and literature from that source states that "the meetings of the Old Guard aim to cultivate fellowship and good cheer, to preserve mental alertness, and to maintain lively interest in community, national and world affairs. These associations help men through the bewilderment common to those who make a pronounced change in their vocational life. But the organization practices no radical segregation of the aged. Rather the good cheer and insights thus developed members carry with them into all other social relationships.

"It is felt to be significant that wherever the Old Guard has been organized, its habitat is the Y. M. C. A. This is not only tribute to the generosity of the 'Y' management, but also to the insight both of the management and of the men themselves. The Old Guard is not a 'department' of the 'Y' and is not under 'control.' But neither does it aim to build up an independent institutional equipment, imposing additional financial burdens on the community. It rather utilizes equipment already provided, and generously made available for the periods of the day which at the same time suit the convenience of the men and employ the plant when it is least in demand by other age groups".

The local chapter meets in the Y. M. C. A. at 10:30 o'clock each Friday morning. No meetings are held during July and August. Visitors are welcome and those who qualify are invited to become members.

Officers for the present year are A. E. Johnson, president; E. W. Smiley, secretary-treasurer, and these, with N. G. Hoagvall, constitute the program committee.

1,000,000 Japanese Mobilized

(From Page One)

Forty-two Japanese ships off the United States west coast were reported marking time or turning back toward Japan.

Both London and Hanoi reports saw that Vichy and Tokyo had agreed to let Japan use bases in Indo-China and reports from Saigon indicated that the French were withdrawing their forces from the area to be occupied.

Extraordinary counter-measures to the Japanese move were hinted in Washington.

Officially Japan admitted nothing about Indo-China.

Japanese newspapers became increasingly truculent toward the United States and Britain, charging them with seeking to throw a military cordon around Japan with the assistance of Russia, China and the Netherlands East Indies. Others suggested significantly that Thailand needed Japanese protection.

To the accepted fact that Japan shortly would be installed in Indo-Chinese bases within striking distance of Britain's Singapore, the Dutch East Indies, Malaya, Burma and the Philippine Islands the United States prepared its answer.

Informed sources in Washington said the U. S. government probably would bar all oil exports to Japan.

the Air Ministry indicated when four types of big planes raided Brest and La Pallice three times in attempts to knock out Germany's twin 26,000-ton battleships, the Scharnhorst and the Gneisenau.

Berlin, July 25.—(AP)—Another costly defeat for British air raiders over the English channel by German fighters said to be using destructive new tactics was claimed today by the German High command.

Thirty-three RAF planes were shot down on the channel coast air front yesterday, the communique from Adolf Hitler's headquarters asserted, including nine four-motored bombers.

Authorized commentators said Germany had developed a new air fighting method and had put it to effective use.

The High Command said the RAF had inflicted civilian casualties in a new overnight sweep along the northwest coast of Germany, but it declared there was no military damage.

Dr. Vern O. Knudsen, acoustics expert at the University of California, believes that the noise of tanks and high-powered airplanes, if long endured, will interfere with the hearing of the future.

Obsequies to Be Held Monday at St. Joseph's

(From Page One)

Monsignor Bernard McGivney at St. Catherine's, parish at DuBois for three months, coming to Warren as assistant to Rev. Joseph W. Sieverding from March 1913 to June, 1918.

At that time he became pastor of St. James parish at Driftwood, Pa., serving there until May 30, 1924 when he came to St. Joseph's as pastor. On June 11, he completed 30 years in the priesthood.

In September, 1925, Father Diamond was instrumental in forming the St. Joseph's Cemetery Association. One of his greatest interests was the care and beauty of this cemetery and before his illness he had made plans for the erection of a large statue and a grotto to Our Lady of Lourdes. Many other improvements also were planned. Many will always regard St. Joseph's cemetery as a memorial to Father Diamond.

Father Diamond was a member of Warren Lodge No. 223, B. P. O. Elks and was a past chaplain of the Elks Association of Pennsylvania. He was also a member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Pennsylvania, and of Warren Council, No. 964, Knights of Columbus.

He held many diocesan positions, including supervisor of the Warren district of the Department of Youth Activities and Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Of a natural friendly and genial nature, Father Diamond was held in the highest esteem by a host of friends in this city and section. He gave unstintingly of his time in behalf of the cause of charity and community endeavor, and his passing leaves a void which will be difficult to fill.

He took a special interest in competitive athletics and was numbered among Warren's most ardent baseball, basketball and football fans. He served as a member of the advisory board of local baseball leagues and independent teams and was one of the prime movers in reorganizing the Warren Red Jackets. His counsel in these and other community matters was earnestly sought and highly valued by his associates.

Father Diamond is survived by three brothers: Frank P., sales manager of Frank and Seder of Philadelphia; Daniel A., of Lansdowne, head of the men's shoe department of Lit Brothers Department Store, Philadelphia, and Edmund Diamond, of Lansdowne, who succeeded his father in the business which he founded.

More than one-half of the world's population is in Asia.

Cardinals Win Over Giants In Tenth To Grab N. L. Lead

Bucs Move Into 4th Place, Beat Phils; Tribe Beaten Again

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

There never will be another "Gas use Gang" until there is anoth- Pepper Martin, but the present Louis Cardinals are the next t thing.

They are a hard-hitting, fast- ning never-say-die outfit with ht hitters batting more than 0 and seven pitchers with a win- g percentage, four of them hav- a combined won-lost record of 11.

They have a bristling, fiery-eyed le boss named Billy (The Kid) thworth, who plays his cards h an abandon never equalled in major leagues.

This explains how the Redbirds ve performed such phenomena winning 20 games by one run l how one pitcher, Lefty Ernie nite, captured three contests in many days to sweep a series m the New York Giants.

The Cardinals nosed out the Gi- s, 3-2 yesterday to bag their ond extra-inning tilt in two vs. White, last of four pitchers ed by Southworth, fanned two n in the tenth to get credit for tenth triumph of the season.

The Giants made only four hits the regulation nine innings, five ogether, but one was Babe ung's single with the bases load- in the first. This was good ough to give New York a 2-1 d with St. Louis having two t and nobody on base in the last the ninth.

Then Frank Crespi and Terry ore, who hadn't hit all day, sin- ed and Johnny Hopp doubled, ring Crespi, but Moore was tag- at the plate.

In the tenth Enos Slaughter sin- ed and Jim Brown doubled for winning run, giving the Cards ir fifth straight victory and ex- sive possession of the National ague lead, a half game ahead the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

The defeat tossed the Giants in- a fourth-place tie with the Pitts- rgh Pirates, who edged out the illies, 3-2, in the ninth for their h victory in 26 contests. The rates were shut out by Lee Gris- n till the seventh, but got one n then and two in the ninth. Stu rtin's single with the bases load- providing the winning margin.

Babe Dahlgren's sixth-inning mer, his 14th of the season, apped a tie and gave the Chica- Cubs a 5-4 victory over his for- r teammate, the Boston Braves the other National League en- gement.

The New York Yankees contin- d their triumphant stride at the nt of the American League, ating the Cleveland Indians, 4- and stretching their first-place rgin to 10 games. Charley Kel- 's 24th homer with one on in the th decided the issue.

Catcher Bill Dickey was beaned one of Jim Bagby's fast balls. t the blow was a glancing one d he was able to walk off the ld unassisted, apparently just aken up.

The Philadelphia Athletics made hits, including homers by Sam hapman and Benny McCoy, to nip the St. Louis Browns, 9-7, d take over fifth place from the troit Tigers, who were beaten ain by the Washington Senators, 5. Hal Newhouse gave only six ts, but walked nine, including ree men in Washington's four- n ninth inning.

The Boston Red Sox retaliated r Wednesday's shellacking by the icago White Sox with an 11-1 ubbing of the Chicago crew.

WHIRLAWAY TO RUN

Chicago, July 25—(AP)—Whirlaway dares the graveyard of champions at Arlington Park tomorrow.

The king of the American turf will go to the post the topheavy favorite in the $60,000 Arlington Classic—a race in which many an odds-on favorite fell before the stretch charge of unheralded longshots.

ENDICOTT NINE TO PLAY FORGE IN TWIN BILL

A bolstered Lindy Miles nine from Endicott, N. Y., much stronger than that which dropped a doubleheader at Meadville to Cannavino's Pioneers early in the summer campaign, will meet the Forge in a bargain bill Sunday afternoon, the first game starting at 2 p. m., DST.

Three pitchers, all of them playing in organized loops last season, have joined up with the Endicott combine, plus many college stars that have been added since the summer vacation started.

Dominic Komodejz is one of the tossers. He was with Trenton in the Interstate League last summer. Earl Lockwood and Dick Bailey are the other two and both performed with Rome in the Canadian-American circuit last year.

Other stars who have been added are such college players as Shorty Ksionzyk, St. Bonaventure hardball star and all around athlete; Mike Kopcik, Georgetown; Stew Lare, Williams, and Ben Cizek, Hartwick.

These players are assets to the Lindy-Miles team and make them a challenge to any semi-pro club in the east. These fellows blend in well with a roster of veterans to step up the Endicott pace, as has been shown by their recent performance which have made their season's record something to marvel at after a shaky start.

The Endicott outfit will be in Wellsville Saturday night, where they may play the Sinclairs, who have beaten the Forgers two of three contests, before coming to Wilder Field, Irvine, on Sunday.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

With PONY League clubs flourishing in Bradford and Jamestown the talk about sports from local fans is definitely for big time sports, which means organized baseball in the summer time. Well, it's nice to have the talk, and it's swell to have visions of a fat sports bill of fare twelve months out of the year, but unfortunately the department that should be swelling is not, and that is this community's exchequer for sports activities. However, as we commented in a recent column, this town has more good sports than it realizes, and good sports aren't necessarily those that draw large crowds and gate receipts, but any that offer good, clean recreation to athletes. Therefore, we decided in that recent column to review what this town does possess and to forget, for the moment, what we'd like to have, but don't.

First of all, we've had, up until last year, a Sunset League for baseball plus a semi-pro club, which did the community proud in all of their efforts. Of course, at present we can have no hardball loop but next year may see the Sunset League re-established. This summer, not too far away, there's the National Forge ball club, with plenty of fine games on its slate that have already been played, and a lot more still coming up. Then, when the PONY League bids farewell to the sportlight come fall, while Jamestown and Bradford both take a breather except for their scholastic football scheds, it's Warren's turn to howl, and the Red Jackets flock onto Russell Field to give fans some professional football that can't be surpassed in Western Pennsylvania or southwestern New York, and that's taking in quite a bit of territory, which proves we have something great. Of course, football season is brief, and the Jackets don't get an opportunity to entertain the public like baseball teams do, but they still remain as this section's leading treat in autumn. Then, winter, and one of the finest high school cage combinations in the Northern League of District Nine usually takes the court for W. H. S. Spring, and the sports picture is wrapped around bowling, where the Inter-City League and several town circuits, plus big sweepstakes steal the spotlight, and in bowling this town can match either Bradford or Jamestown.

The summertime, and we haven't a major sport before us, at least not this year. But the sport picture still is full. This year it's the City League softball teams and the Forgers, and soon there'll be a tennis tourney that is expected to go over big. And those sports may not pack them in, but they keep the town lively, and they're good recreation. Also in the summer are the playgrounds in this city where one of the busiest and finest programs in this section of the state has been mapped out each year by capable playgrounds Director H. G. Kolpien, who is also noted for a couple of basketball honors in coaching. As far as our not being in the PONY League, though we all admittedly are looking forward to some day seeing an entry in this town, local fans needn't travel far to see good baseball. They have Jamestown, Bradford or Erie for minor league ball, and Irvine for sandlot games. But, when it's fall, there's only one center for pro football, and then Bradford, Jamestown, Erie, Kane, Sheffield, and other cities' fans trek to Warren, the home of good semi-pro grid teams. That's why this corner says, let's appreciate what we do have, 'cause we have a lot, don't we?

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, July 25—Lou Gehrig's dog, "Kim," is the first "player" named for "The Life of Lou Gehrig." . . . Weather for the start of the St. Paul open golf was almost as hot as Ben Hogan. . . . Arlington Park will have 440 selling and cashiering windows open for tomorrow's rich classic. . . . Those Martian-looking football headgears Northwestern's eleven introduced last fall have been adopted by the Army for the use of parachute troops at Fort Benning, Ga. . . . Craig Wood keeps right on playing like a champ, even in exhibitions—69 at Kansas City, 70 at Louisville, 68 at Pittsburgh and 65 at Buffalo. . . Dick Wakefield, the Tigers' $45,000 beauty, may not know it yet, but he's moving into a pitcher's league at Winston-Salem in the Piedmont.

Today's Guest Star

Sid Benjamin, Hazleton (Pa.) Plain-Speaker: "No wonder the St. Louis Browns lost to the Trenton Interstaters at Trenton Tuesday night. . . . The Browns aren't used to playing before such large crowds."

Around and About

If you think you have to play on a big college team to make a name for yourself, what about all the little Rockhurst College is getting for the all-star team? . . . Randy Scott, the he-man film star, has four birdies to his credit in the Peter Dawson national ringer tournament. . . . Willie Turnesa, former amateur golf champ, now in business in Detroit, has been promoted to the point where he has to have a secretary. . . . Attendance at pro and open golf tournaments is up 30 per cent from last year. . . . Ben Hogan, who has finished in the money in 51 consecutive tournaments, never has seen a big league ball game, but he is planning to take time off in October to see the Yankees and maybe the Dodgers. . . . Until beaned by Kirby Higbe Wednesday night, Frank McCormick had a streak of 549 consecutive big league games.

Today's Haw

Since Fordham started to crash the football big-time some years back, Boston College hasn't been considered big enough game for the Ram schedule. . . . Just the same, seven Boston College players have been picked for the eastern all-star team which will be coached by Jim Crowley—of Fordham.

RECORD NUMBER ENTER IN STATE PUBLINX EVENT

BY JOHN CAMPBELL

Hershey, Pa., July 25—(AP)—Pennsylvania's John Does' of golf—the public links players—came into their own today with a field of 138 lined up for the 72-hole chase to the state's pay-as-you-play championship.

Early favorite in the two-day slugfest at match play was slamming Sammy Musico, of Pittsburgh, the defending titleholder but Vash Hromyak, of Sharon and Wilmer Faber, of Reading, both former state champions, were tabbed as potential repeaters.

Rapidly swelling entries—they continued to pour in right up to last night's deadline—assured the largest field in the event's history and forced officials to shove ahead the opening time. Andrew Petrucci, of Philadelphia, was given the day's opening spot at 6:30 a. m. (EST).

Hard-baked closely - trimmed fairways of the tricky Hershey Park course helped the long hitters in early practice rounds but only a few kept scores. As far as single holes were concerned William Kush, of Bethlehem, set the pace. He turned in an ace on the 113-yard 14th.

Bracketed high in the list of ex-champions were George Bradley, of Philadelphia, and Carl Kauffman, of Pittsburgh. Bradley won the title in 1936 and 1939 while Kauffman turned the trick in 1937. They hold the course record of 69, two under par.

Joseph Spesak, playing on his home course, was also conceded an edge over most of the field as was Hal Brewer, former captain of the Purdue University golf team and Indiana amateur champion. Both are familiar with every slope of the sporty layout and Spesak has won the Hershey Park Championship for three straight years. Brewer was medalist in this year's park golf club championship.

Hospital Nine Meets Jamestown Tomorrow

The Jamestown Spiders, entered in the Interstate baseball league, will play against the State Hospital at North Warren Saturday afternoon.

Currently in second place in the circuit, the Spiders will bring a strong team to oppose "Rabbit" Swanson's men.

Jim Rose is expected to do the tossing for North Warren, and W. Barr may go to the mound for the Spiders.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m. DST.

FORD CITY UNBEATEN IN SEMI-PRO TOURNEY

Vandergrift, July 25—(AP)—The state's semi-pro baseball tournament was reduced to an even dozen teams with the elimination yesterday of three who suffered their second defeat.

Ousted were the Pittsburgh Monarchs, beaten by New Freedom, 9-6, the Vandergrift Grays, losers to Butler 9-8, and the Leechburg Marconi Club, defeated by East Butler, 7 to 1.

Ford City remained in the undefeated bracket by winning from Brackenridge SWOC 8 to 3.

Today Vandergrift Elkland plays Greensboro Warwicks, Ford City meets Vandergrift and Lower Burrell tangles with New Freedom.

Local Fan Helps Bucs Defeat Phillies, 3-2

Johnny Ward, of North Warren, has a good reason to remember witnessing his first big league baseball game. Yesterday at Pittsburgh Coach Honus Wagner, of the Buccos, invited him to sit on the bench in the Pittsburgh dugout. It was before game time, during the Phillies batting practice, and thirteen year-old Johnny had a chance to talk with the players and get their autographs.

Every member of the Pirate squad was friendly to Johnny, especially Pitcher Joe Bowman, who eventually was the winning pitcher in yesterday's thriller.

When Pittsburgh won the game in the last of the ninth, and Bowman was the winner, Johnny felt he had had a pretty good time at the ball game.

P. S.—Honus Wagner asked Mrs. Ward if the community here had done anything about fixing up the ball park. Mrs. Ward countered with a reply that we hope to have a good ball park soon. Ahem!

Eagles Even Series With Marconi Club By 10 to 4 Victory

It was a different story last night, when the Eagles and Marconi Club met for the second time this season, than their first meeting in Sheffield about a month ago, for last night the Eagles drubbed the Marconis at Wilder Field, Irvine, by a score of 10 to 4.

Nine hits plus five errors committed by the losers, enabled the Eagles to avenge their earlier defeat and come on to win last night's game hands down.

Paul Rogers, who lost a heartbreaker at Ludlow last week, was the winning tosser in last night's struggle, while Floyd Kifer, one of the Marconi Club's best hurlers, was charged with the loss.

The losers had a one run lead in the first inning, but after that they never were ahead. In the second, the Eagles tied the score, then added three runs in the third, five in the fourth, and one more in the fifth of the seven inning encounter.

The Marconis scored three more runs, one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

"Happy" Albaugh made his debut with the Eagles last evening and led the hitting with three hits in four trips, including a double. He batted in two runs.

The Marconi Club will play the Jamestown Spiders in an Interstate League ball game Sunday at Jamestown. Presently, the local club is leading the Interstate League with three wins and no losses.

Meanwhile, the Eagles will play the Kane Ryan Club on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Kane, and will tangle with the Ludlow Wildcats next Thursday evening in a twilight tilt. Both of these clubs own close victories over the Eagles.

Don McNeill Upset In Sea Bright Play

Sea Bright, N. J., July 26—(AP)—The enigma that is Donald L. McNeill, tennis champion of the United States, remains unsolved.

"For the life of me, I don't know what's wrong. Your guess is as good as mine". This from McNeill himself.

Yesterday, in the quarter final round of the 54th annual Sea Bright Tournament, McNeill fell victim of the tournament's biggest upset. He was beaten by 20-year-old Ted Schroeder in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5.

McNeill wasn't the only victim, Frankie Parker, was crushed by Wayne Sabin, 6-2, 6-4.

Today's semi-finals will pit Sabin against Schroeder and Bobby Riggs against Gardnar Mulloy.

PROS GUNNING FOR HOGAN AT ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Minn., July 25—(AP)—Maybe Little Ben Hogan can add more cash to the $11,000 or so he has won already this season by finishing well up in the $7,500 open golf tournament starting today, but if he does it will be only after a battle.

Grapevine reports say Hogan's feat of placing in the money in 52 consecutive tournaments have aroused the other pros and they are out to stop him this time. But the 135-pound Texan will take some stopping, for he apparently is definitely on his game.

Hogan fired a 67 in the pro-women preliminary round over the sun-baked Keller course yesterday, which is five under par, but he still was behind Sam Snead who blasted a 66.

PENNSYLVANIA OIL NEWS

MORE MOTOR OIL FROM PENNSYLVANIA REGION THAN EVER BEFORE

OIL CITY, PA.—More lubricating oil has been made from Pennsylvania Grade crude in recent years than at any time in the 80-year history of these, the oldest oil fields in the world. In spite of this fact, oil men often hear these questions: "Are those old fields still producing?" "How much Pennsylvania oil is there?"

Figures just published in the Penn Grade Bulletin show that in 1940, the Pennsylvania region produced more than a billion gallons of crude oil—1,132,824,000 gallons to be exact.

The average yield of lubricants from a barrel of Pennsylvania Grade crude is 23 per cent. Therefore some 260,553,520 gallons of Pennsylvania Motor Oil could have been made last year—more than enough to lubricate half of the vehicles on the roads in the United States. Actually not all of these lubricants were made into motor oil because some of the material went into industrial oils and oils for special purposes.

Furthermore, Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil yields larger amounts of lubricating oil stocks than any other type of crude oil—and this crude oil provides the finest raw material for motor oil the world has ever known.

For your protection fine oils made from 100% Pure Pennsylvania Grade Crude are entitled to carry this emblem, the registered badge of source, quality, and membership in our Association.

HEARTBREAK HONEYMOON

by WATKIN[illegible]HT

Chapter 26

Surprise For Marie

UP in New York Marie Mason was dressing. She had slept late, and she had awakened feeling horribly low. Henry . . . Tommy. . . . She had quarreled with the one, and neglected the other. She had been an awful little fool. Everything had gone utterly wrong. She felt completely disgusted with the world and everything in it.

But she kept on thinking about Tommy, and the way she had treated him since the arrival of Henry and Luella Pell. Dear, dear Tommy. He had been good to her, so unselfish and so much in love with her. And she had treated him shamefully.

She had let her feeling for Henry make her forget everything else—even Tommy's kindness, the way he had helped her get established. And that, she told herself with emphasis, was where she had been even more of a fool.

Why Tommy McIntyre was going places in the world of radio! Of course, he was. He stood high with his superiors, and he was going to have a lot to say about who worked on those recordings his firm was making. "We'll be to the radio world," Tommy had once said, "what Edison was to the phonograph world. . . . You know, Marie—making records to be sold or rented to broadcasting stations throughout the world, even Canada—maybe Europe, if they ever stop fighting over there."

He had then explained that they might even make recordings of an entire evening's entertainment of vaudeville — songs, tap-dancing, jokes, sketches, monologues. All that, and she had been so busy adoring Henry Pell and helping him get the negro songs ready she had completely and utterly overlooked all the opportunities Tommy might make possible. Her songs recorded. . . . Percentages, royalties.

"Marie Mason," she thought, "it's time you got busy and stopped centering all your energies on one man."

She picked up the telephone with a quick, determined move. She asked for the number of Tommy McIntyre's office. She would be nice to him, and maybe he would invite her to lunch. They could go to some quiet place, and slowly, carefully, she would begin her campaign to win him back.

"Hello!" she said, when a voice spoke at the other end of the line. "May I speak to Mr. Thomas McIntyre?"

"I'm sorry," said the voice. "But Mr. McIntyre isn't in."

"Can you tell me when he will be in?"

"He left for Florida an hour ago."

"Florida!"

"Yes."

"But, I—that i—" Marie caught herself. "This is Miss Mason speaking. I was especially anxious to get in touch with Mr. McIntyre. I wonder if you can tell me where I can reach him?"

"No, Miss Mason," said the voice. "Just a moment . . . I'll connect you with Mr. Greenwood."

"Thank you," said Marie.

No Luck

MR. GREENWOOD was on the wire almost at once. Marie explained who she was.

"Oh, Miss Mason!" said Mr. Greenwood. "Of course! Many's the time I've heard you sing. What can I do for you?"

"I wanted to talk to Mr. McIntyre," said Marie. "But I was told he had just left for Florida. I thought perhaps you—"

"Tommy?" said Mr. Greenwood. "Yes, he took a sudden notion that he needed a vacation, and off he went. I persuaded him to mix business with pleasure. He's—"

"Have you his address?"

"No, unfortunately, I haven't. You see, he's driving down more or less leisurely—stopping off in Charlotte, North Carolina, Spartanburg, South Carolina, and Atlanta, Georgia—to look into the radio situation. He's to get in touch with me on his way."

"I see," said Marie. "Thank you."

"Shall I get in touch with you when I hear from Tommy?"

"If it's not too much trouble," said Marie.

"No trouble at all," said Mr. Greenwood. Must be nice to this Southern girl with the moving voice—her records ought to sell like hot-cakes. "Always glad to be of service to the Singer of Songs from way down South." He chuckled. "By the way, that new program you're on is a honey, Miss Mason."

"Thank you," said Marie. "You're very kind."

A moment later she hung up her receiver. Tommy going to Florida without saying goodbye. It was cruel of him. The least he could have done was telephone her before leaving.

She frowned, and began to move restlessly about the room. She felt sunk, absolutely. She began more and more to regret her treatment of Tommy, also the quarrel with Henry. She had been utterly brainless in her handling of both men. Someone ought to take her in hand, and give her a good talking-to.

Henry . . . Tommy . . . Henry. Well, Henry was still in town, wasn't he? Of course. Then why not get in touch with him, say she was sorry about the quarrel?

Again she picked up her receiver. And when Henry Pell answered very promptly, she felt better.

"Henry, this is Marie," she said.

"Yes?" said Henry—in a tone of voice that wasn't at all friendly.

"Take me to lunch, Henry, will you?" Marie went on. "I'm terribly sorry about last night. I want to tell you in person."

"Very well," Henry said. "I've got some things I'd like to talk over with you. Where shall we meet?"

"In the British Restaurant down in the sunken plaza," she said. "You can buy me a mutton chop. There are so few places where one can get them."

"Okay. One o'clock all right?"

"Splendid!" said Marie. "I'll be there on the dot—wearing a gardenia so you'll know me." She laughed lightly. "Don't meet the wrong girl, Henry, dear."

"Nope!" said Henry, still not very friendly-like, Marie thought. "I must get back to some work now. See you later."

Marie was on the dot, and she was wearing a gardenia; not for identification purposes, but because a gardenia went well with the silver-fox trimming of her new and expensive ensemble.

"Here, by the window," said Henry. "We can watch the sunshine play on the silent fountain."

"Thank you, Henry," said Marie. They sat down. "Now, let me say in person and in all humility that I'm terribly sorry I was such an awful female last evening. I must have sounded like something out of the gutter."

"Let's forget it," said Henry.

"And go on from there?" Marie asked, eyeing him.

Henry, Too

"YEP, on from t h e r e," said Henry. "Only, I'm going away for awhile."

"You are?" First Tommy—now Henry."

"Yep. Business." Henry gave their orders, then he went on. "My firm is sending me south. They are interested in timber down in the Carolinas, now that the paper-making industry is waking up in our country; you know, paper from wood-pulp."

"Yes, I know about it," said Marie. "I read an article about it in a magazine."

"A well informed lady!" Henry said, smiling for the first time.

Marie didn't smile, however. A sudden thought came to her. Henry taking a trip south . . . Luella already there . . . darned funny, she thought, this decision to head in that direction. Did it mean that he was going down to get Luella?

"I suppose," she said, trying to speak casually, "that you'll stop off in our hometown, and say hello to Luella."

"Luella's not there," said Henry.

"Where is she?"

"Florida, by now. . . . She was on her way when I heard from her this morning."

"Florida!"

"Yes. . . . A special delivery this morning. It was posted in a town somewhere in South Carolina."

"You mean she's—she's—"

"I mean she's on her way to Florida to get one of those ninety day divorces we've been hearing about."

"But, Henry . . . did you know she—"

Henry went right on. "And, believe it or not, Tommy McIntyre has turned over his cottage to her," he said. "He told her to live in it while she was establishing her residence, and to— say, what's the matter?"

"You say Tommy let her have his cottage?" Marie asked, in an odd sort of voice.

"Yes. Good old family friend, you know. . . . Always willing to help out the family feud. . . . Always—"

"Yes, I know," said Marie. "But did you know Tommy was on the way to Florida?"

"No!"

"Well, he is. He left this morning."

"Well, I'll be—"

Marie shrugged. "It sounds like a drawing room comedy or something," she said. "First, Luella walks out on you, and—"

"No," Henry contradicted. "First, you fly to Chicago and Luella finds out. She—"

"She jumps at silly conclusions," said Marie. Then she went on with what she had started out to say. "First, Luella walks out on you—then Tommy gives her his cottage—then she goes to Florida, and now Tommy's on his way to the same place. What, may I ask, does it all add up to?"

"An infernal triangle," said Henry.

"But where do I come in?"

"You make it an infernal complication."

"Oh, I do, do I? Well, what are you going to do about it?"

"I don't know," said Henry, confused and annoyed. "The way things have been happening to me here of late, I—feel dazed."

"Well, you've got to do something, haven't you?" said Marie.

Henry looked at her. "What would you suggest?" he asked.

SLIMMING YOKED DRESS-UP MODE

PATTERN 4698

by ANNE ADAMS

You'll always feel "best dressed woman there" in this charming and tasteful style. For Anne Adams has planned Pattern 4698 to serve as a lovely background for your own personality—and to soften and flatter your figure at the same time! Those yokes are smartly pointed and cut for a slimming effect. Darts below the yokes and above the waist hold the marvelous bustline softness where it's needed. The skirt gives you taller, narrower lines with its two front panels and single panel in back. Your tucked, well-shaped sleeves may be short or three-quarter length. Why not make the graceful dress in a soft flowered sheer or crepe, and let the belt have a front inset and ties of colorful ribbon?

Pattern 4698 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 3-8 yards 39 inch fabric.

Offensive Resumed by Nazis

A military spokesman announced that Finnish forces were threatening the Leningrad-Murmansk railway northeast of Leningrad, having forced a passage between Lake Ladoga and Lake Onega. (This presumably is in the Petrozavodsk region, where there has been heavy fighting for nearly a week.)

He also reported threats to Leningrad from the southwest and south, where he said German units were making steady progress on both sides of Lake Peipus and Lake Ilmen, each about 130 miles from Leningrad.

At the same time, a belated report by informed sources said a strong bunker group in the Stalin line known as Emil Ezyn, south of the Pinsky marshes, surrendered to the Germans yesterday.

They said that a fierce, 24-hour battle preceded the capitulation and that the Red army commander had strict orders to defend fortifications to the last man.

Up to last night, these sources said, 20,000 Russians had been captured in the Nevel area, on the northern sector of the eastern front, and the number of Red army deserters is increasing, particularly at points where political commissars have fallen.

The High Command communique asserted that "individual combat planes last night bombed military objectives in the eastern part of Moscow and north of the Kremlin."

German air operations extended from one end of the 2,000-mile front to the other, with action against ships on the White Sea, near the Arctic, and on the Black Sea, at the southern end of the front, these informants said.

which would have authorized the State Highway Department to take over 240 local bridges.

The governor said the cost of taking the bridges in every city of the state except Philadelphia would have "seriously interfered" with the normal road program.

The measure was introduced by Rep. Albert B. McClester (R-Butler).

James said that 3,800 of the 18,000 bridges now in the state highway system are inadequate to carry the weights of trucks.

"The Department of Highways is now engaged in a program of strengthening and reconstructing its lighter bridges, which may require five years for completion," the executive said.

Another bill the governor must act upon before August 15 would increase the maximum allowable weights of trucks to 42,000 pounds, from the present top of 39,900. It was one of the most controversial bills which the legislature considered in its nearly seven-month session.

James signed a bill creating the Pennsylvania Traffic Advisory committee to work with the federal government in troop movements over state roads. The committee also would furnish data on the number of trucks and buses available in an emergency—information which has been gathered by the state defense council and the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association.

Also signed by the governor was the second bill to bring milk sold on consignment under regulation of the milk control commission. The first bill to reach his desk was vetoed because it removed his authority to approve milk orders of the commission.

WAR BRIEFS

Cairo, Egypt, July 25—(AP)—Another swift-striking British night patrol dashed three miles out of beleaguered Tobruk to pound a strong point of the siege lines around the Libyan port with hand grenades in the darkness Wednesday, the British Middle East Command reported today.

Cairo, Egypt, July 25—(AP)—An Axis torpedo boat which approached a British convoy in the Mediterranean Wednesday was attacked by RAF fighter planes "and left sinking," the RAF Middle East communique reported today.

New York, July 25—(AP)—A Domei, Japanese news agency, broadcast quoted the counsellor of Japan's Moscow embassy today as saying that if the Russians must withdraw from their capital it will be burned to the ground as it was when Napoleon approached it.

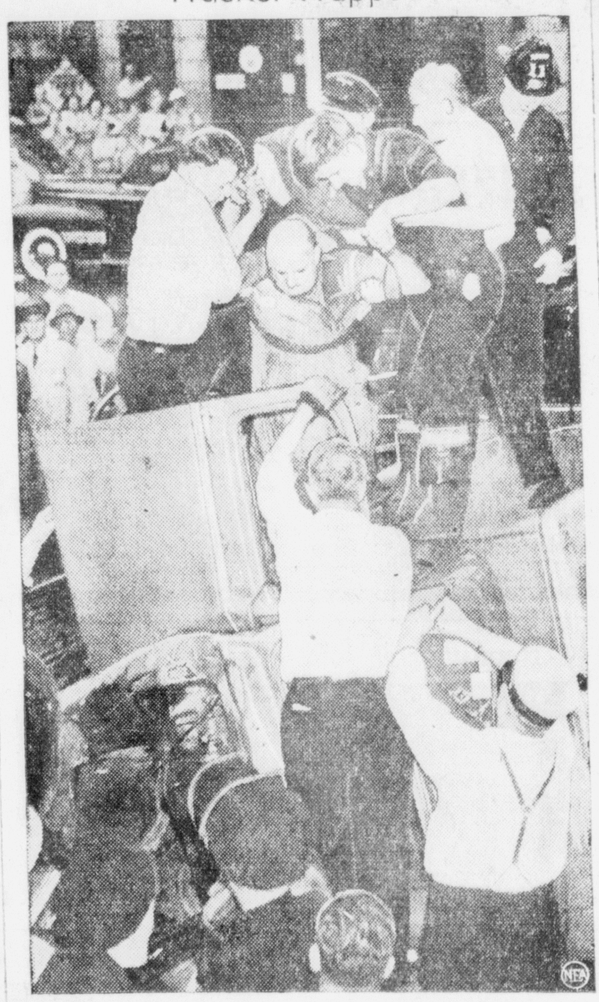

OLD PUBLISHER ACTIVE

Oskaloosa, Kas., July 25.—(AP)—Frank H. Roberts, publisher of the Oskaloosa Independent since 1882, is 90 years old today. He celebrated his birthday by making up the editorial page of this week's issue and handsetting the headlines—just to show he can still do it. The paper was founded in 1860 by his father.

BOY DROWNS IN HOLE IN THE MONONGAHELA

Point Marion, July 25—(AP)—James Irving Wheeler, 14, of Walnut Hill, who could not swim, was drowned last night while wading in the Monongahela river. He stepped into a ten-foot-deep hole five feet from shore.

Mrs. Joseph Wheeler, the boy's mother, was crossing the Point Marion bridge at the time and heard her son's companion cry for help. She raced to the point, unaware at the time it was her boy who drowned.

There was little doubt that Japanese authorities feared the valuable cargoes aboard their vessels might be impounded if President Roosevelt ordered Japanese credits frozen.

The big Japanese tanker Daini Ogura Maru sailed from here direct for Japan late last night with 4,500,000 gallons of California crude oil. Her sailing permit had been cancelled by the State Department, but this order later was revoked when the ship's master explained his vessel was bound for Yokohama, not any Indo-China port.

The rivers and harbors committee of the U. S. Congress will visit Erie Saturday on a tour of inspection of cities involved in the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence river waterways canal, it was reported today. retain the services of the citizen soldiers as long as the emergency might last, and Chairman Reynolds (D-SC) observed that it might be difficult to fix a time limit if congress declared an emergency.

The declaration of such an emergency was sought in proposed legislation sent to the committee yesterday by Secretary of War Stimson.

Meanwhile, a joint committee adjusted differences between senate and house on legislation calling for mandatory deferment of Selectees 28 years old or older. Approval of both houses appeared to be assured. The bill probably will be called up in the house for action next week.

The same measure would give the president authority to seize defense plants when he finds that there is interruption of production which would interfere with the defense program.

CANDIDATES TO LEARN POSITION ON FALL BALLOT

All candidates for nomination at the September primary in Warren county who have opposition have been notified that the drawing for places on the ballot will be held at the office of the Warren county commissioners next Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Candidates for the judgeships of supreme, superior and district courts will draw places on the ballot in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth at Harrisburg on Wednesday, July 30th.

There are very few contests in Warren county—none for county-wide offices. In Warren borough, the only contests on the primary ballot are for Republican nomination for council in two wards, the first and fifth.

For the judgeship of the 37th district, comprising Warren and Forest counties, there also is a contest on the Republican ticket between Allison D. Wade and LeRoy C. Eddy.

Mr. Wade stated yesterday afternoon that he is making plans to attend the drawing. Mr. Eddy had not fully decided at that time whether he would attend.

Candidates may appear in person at both drawings, or they may have their places drawn by proxy.
